

No Stalin Element In Party

Communist World Meet In Progress

MOSCOW (AP)—A Soviet Communist leader told the Soviet Communist party congress today that there will be no return to Stalinism.

Nikolai G. Yegorychev, head of the Communist party in Moscow, said it has become fashionable lately to look for "elements of Stalinism" in Soviet political life, the Soviet news agency Tass reported from the second closed session of the 23rd party congress.

Tass said Yegorychev "emphatically rejected these attempts and declared that there would be no return to the past and that everything that had hampered progress had been brushed aside forever."

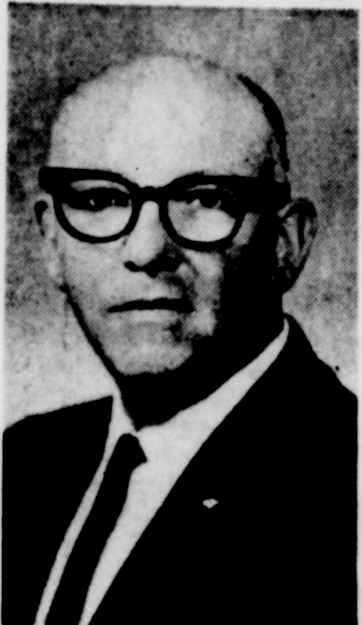

At the same time Yegorychev began a process of re-examining Soviet history in the period that Joseph Stalin ruled the Soviet Union.

Communist sources have indicated that this re-examination will result in the softening of some criticism of Stalin while trying to divorce the Communist party as a whole from Stalin's crimes.

Yegorychev said attempts to smear the party must be rejected.

"Much could have been done better," he said. "The 50 years (Please turn to Page 14, Col. 7.)

McGraw In County On Campaign

Frank McGraw

Frank W. McGraw, Saline County Superintendent of Schools, this week included Sedalia and Pettis county in his itinerary campaigning as a candidate for State Senator of the 28th District in the August 2 Democratic primary election. The district includes: Chariton, Cooper, Lafayette, Linn, Pettis and Saline counties.

Mr. McGraw was a candidate for this position in the 16th District four years ago. He is a native of Saline County. He was born and reared on a farm and educated in the rural schools of that county. He began his teaching career at the age of 17. He has served as County Collector and County Superintendent of schools for many years. He is an active layman in the First Christian Church of Marshall.

McGraw is a graduate of the Central Missouri State College of Warrensburg and the Graduate School of Education at the University of Missouri. He holds a Bachelor of Science degree from Central Missouri College and the Master of Arts degree from the University of Missouri.

Tax Settlement Is Presented In Court

In a regular session of the Pettis County Court Tuesday, Raymond Wilder, county collector, presented the settlement of taxes collected in the county and paid the county treasurer: State — $43,489.44; County — $333,230.70; Road — $261,016.54; School — $1,759,240.54; City — $47,887.19; Library — $35,532.44; Good Samaritan Nursing Home — $1,247.17; fees and commission retained by collector — $10,000.

WASHINGTON—The FBI arrested, Wednesday, 38 persons, including a group of fathers and sons, on charges they were involved in a draft dodging scheme built on the sale of stolen reserve unit credentials. One of the boys arrested, Mark Steven Eckhaus, 21, a student at American University, is shown as he was escorted into U.S. District Court by an FBI agent (L). The boy's father, Milton M. Eckhaus, 50, of Woodmere, N.Y., was also arrested in New York. (UPI)

Billboards, Junkyards Bill Passes

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Bills to regular billboards and junkyards and prevent the loss of $20 million in federal highway aid were passed by the Senate today.

The vote sending the billboard measure to the House was 22-7. The junkyard bill passed 24-6. Passed unanimously were bills to:

Let the state pay the first $40 hospitalization costs for old age assistance recipients and $10 a day from their 60th to 90th day in the hospital.

Allow junior colleges to issue revenue bonds to build dining, social or recreational facilities, but not dormitories. A 4 percent interest limitation on such bonds was taken out.

The billboard measure aroused the greatest controversy.

Sen. William B. Waters, D-Liberty, the majority leader, attacked it as "the worst garbled up bill I've ever seen. It would take 10 Philadelphia lawyers to figure out what it means."

He charged it would permit county courts to "spot zone" billboards.

But Sen. Robert A. Young, D-St. Ann, said if some such legislation is not passed the state stands to lose $10 million a year in federal highway aid. Another $10 million would be lost if the junkyard bill is not passed.

The Senate also passed without change, 27-0, an emergency appropriation bill which cuts out a $500,000 House approved allotment to buy the old Tweedie shoe factory east of the Capitol.

Former Employment Chief To New Post

WASHINGTON (AP)—Leroy F. Shantz, former director of Missouri's Division of Employment Security, has been appointed chief of the Division of Immigration Services of the U.S. Employment Service, the Labor Department announced today.

Shantz will be in charge of the Labor Department's responsibilities for certifying all aliens applying for admission as permanent immigrants to work in this country.

Shantz was director of the Missouri Employment Security Division from 1961-65. Last year he directed a Labor Department program to recruit and train counselors to work with poor youths.

Economic Opportunity Funds For This Area

A grant of $57,028 is being awarded to the Mid-Missouri Community Action Corp., for the economic opportunity program in Pettis, Benton, Johnson and Morgan Counties, United States Senators Stuart Symington and Edward V. Long and Congressman William J. Randall announced Wednesday.

Open Bids April 16

Plan General Renovation For Pettis Court House

The pigeons who have been using the Pettis County Court House for an apartment building are due for a shock and the court house itself may not be recognizable within a few months after the general renovation work now planned is completed.

C. Berry Elliott, presiding judge of the Pettis County Court, announced sealed bids were to be received by the county court for renovation and waterproofing of the building. Bids will be opened and read at 10 a.m. Saturday, April 16, he said.

Pigeons have been a nuisance at the court house for a long time, as have other birds — starlings, for example. All of that will change after the premises have been sprayed with a bird repellent, the court said.

The repellent will be applied to "all window sills, top of parapet walls and all other horizontal surfaces where birds light or roost, from the extreme top of the building to ten feet from the ground. . . . contractor specifications state.

But that's only part of it. On the list of work to be done are sandblasting the exterior, replacing both doors at the building's major entrances, painting all window frames, filling in all holes and gaps in walls, ceilings and so on, and generally waterproofing the entire structure.

The list of specifications calls for, in order, cleaning of the stone surfaces, raking of joints, cleaning out joints, tuckpointing, stone patching, washing surfaces, removing loose stone, waterproofing, caulking, bird-proofing and coating of parapet walls.

The present flimsy and unsightly main entrances will be removed and in their place will be two heavy aluminum "wide-style" doors with "jalousie operating transoms for summer ventilation. . . ."

Once work is completed the court house will present a lighter and brighter face on all four sides and the bird repellent is aimed at keeping it that way.

MPSC Makes 1966 Franchise Payment

Missouri Public Service Company today made its first quarterly electric and gas franchise payment for 1966 to the City of Sedalia for the use of streets and alleys.

Harry Kull, District Manager, gave the City Clerk a check in the amount of $34,649.26 which is one-fourth of the franchise payment based on the Company's sales of electricity and gas to consumers in Sedalia during the year 1965. Three additional payments will be made during the year at the end of each quarter.

The franchise payments are in addition to real estate, personal property and other taxes paid to Pettis County including the City of Sedalia.

Besides work on the structure, the county court already has had two large pinoaks and a large sweet gum planted on the grounds. The pinoaks are on the east side and the sweet gum on the southeast corner of the court house lot. Both trees were obtained from a local florist.

Say Negro Precincts Excluded

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Daniel P. Reardon Jr., former Democratic circuit attorney in St. Louis, charged today Negro precincts systematically were excluded from the so-called Forest Park district in St. Louis.

Appearing before the House Redistricting Commission, Reardon said he questioned the fundamental fairness and inferred a Republican gerrymander was responsible.

The commission opened its third and final day of public hearings before submitting its map for 163 new House districts no later than Saturday.

Also appearing was Franklin County resident, Wilbur Trentman, who objected to the four-way split of his county.

H. D. Hicks, Democratic committee chairman from Howell County, said the remap was unfair. He objected to parts of Ozark County being attached to Howell. He said his county, with 22,027 population, should have a district of its own.

Rep. Marvel G. Gosser, R-Schuyler County, returned with a delegation to urge the commission to return two precincts attached to another district.

Gosser presented his arguments Tuesday.

Chairman G. Andy Runge, Mexico Republican, said Tuesday the district containing Schuyler County already is one of the most populated under the tentative plan and restoration of the two precincts is unlikely.

Late Bulletin

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission has authorized the Missouri Pacific Railroad to discontinue its passenger trains 11 and 12 between St. Louis and Pueblo, Colo.

The railroad had planned to drop the trains last November, but the ICC ordered the discontinuance held up while it investigated.

After hearings in several cities, the ICC concluded Tuesday that the financial burden resulting from the continued operations of the trains is sufficient that they should be discontinued.

Early Tax Hike Indication Cause Of Political Up roar

Cavalrymen Battle Big Red Force

US Helicopters Are Shot Down In Heavy Fire

SAIGON (AP)—Two hundred U.S. cavalrymen battled against entrapment by a strong Communist force tonight in the central highlands 12 miles southwest of Pleiku. American artillery hammered at the Red lines.

Several troop-carrying helicopters were shot down. One was a heavy-duty Chinook that exploded over the cavalrymen's landing zone in a clearing of the Chu Phong Mountain range, complicating further helicopter landings.

"We're taking a lot of Spook fire," a lieutenant reported by radio to his headquarters in Pleiku, 240 miles north of Saigon. This probably meant the enemy was shooting at the cavalrymen from all directions.

AP photographer Rick Meron reported in a dispatch from Pleiku that the fight started at noon when a detachment of about 50 men from the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division ran into heavy enemy fire. A 10-man company flew in to help.

A North Vietnamese soldier was captured and he told the Americans there were 1,000 well-armed Viet Cong in the sector.

Elsewhere U.S. planes destroyed at least 150 Communist buildings, set off 14 big explosions and killed 35 or more Viet Cong in 24 hours of intensive bombardment in South Viet Nam, a U.S. spokesman announced.

Four planes were lost, three to enemy fire.

Although poor weather continued to hamper air activity against North Viet Nam, Navy carrier planes claimed five jets and three sampans destroyed on strafing missions against waterways in the North. A big Air Force C130 trans-

Construction Worker Found Dead In Car

Bernie Leroy Rause, 62, Cincinnati, Iowa, a worker for the Howard Construction Company here, was found dead in his automobile early Monday morning on farm land owned by John Stonner, south of Miami, Mo.

He was pronounced dead by Saline County Coroner, Dr. James H. Martin. When found, Rause was sitting behind the wheel of his 1965 Buick automobile with his head tilted back and the ignition switch turned on.

Rause had been a tractor driver for the construction company for the past 13 years.

The body was taken to the Hershberger Funeral Home, Marshall, and later Monday transferred to the Clark Funeral Home, King City, pending word from the relatives in regard to funeral arrangements.

Personal Views On JuCo Proposal

Glenn W. Kell, Jr., plumbing contractor, 812 North New York—"I think a vote for the Junior College is a vote of confidence for the youth of this area. It goes without saying if we can provide more advanced education for our young people, we are fulfilling a community responsibility."

George Moyer, manager, supermarket, 1615 West 13th—"I understand some new Junior College areas had only 20 percent of their students going to college after graduation before a college was put in their area. After that, this was increased to 40 or more percent. This indicates we will be able to offer advanced education to more young people who have the desire to go on ahead."

Mrs. Gene Cook, housewife, 2112 South Quincy—"With a large family, a Junior College will lessen a financial hardship on us and other families like our own who will have to send their children away for four years of college."

Monty McQuitty, personnel head, Town & Country Shoes—"The fact a Junior College can offer courses in vocational training will help to reach more people than just a mere academic program that most colleges have. Many boys and girls do not desire to go to a four year college, but they want to specialize in certain vocations which do not require a degree."

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another in a series of personal comments by residents on the Pettis - Benton county Junior College District proposal to be voted on April 5.

May Decide Next Month, Johnson Tells Interns

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson's broad indication that he may ask an early tax increase to combat threatened inflation touched off a political uproar in Congress today.

Johnson told a group of young interns finishing a year's government service Tuesday that if prices continue to rise he faces three choices: government controls, a $5-billion-to $10-billion cut in federal spending or a tax hike of roughly $5 billion.

He added no one likes controls. He said he does not believe spending can be reduced without damaging "necessary or popular programs that Congress wouldn't go along with." He said agencies will report to the Budget Bureau next month on possible economies.

If such reductions are not enough and "if prices are still going up, we will have to have a tax bill," he said. A decision may be reached next month, he told the interns.

This brought an assertion from Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen that Johnson is in for "a tug-of-war, a test of strength" with Republicans and conservative Democrats who will fight to cut spending rather than increase taxes.

"This is going to stimulate an economy hunt such as we haven't seen in years," Dirksen said in an interview. "Every buck we can save will mean a buck less in taxes and believe me we're going to hunt for those savings."

Rep. John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin, top Republican on the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee, said he is not going to support any tax increase "as long as the administration continues to press for expenditures that certainly can be deferred."

Rep. Hale Boggs of Louisiana, assistant House Democratic leader, said he thinks because of the pressure of Viet Nam war expenditures on the economy, taxes may have to go up.

"We might have to increase taxes," he said. "Now the President has to decide." (Please turn to Page 14, Col. 5)

Arrest 38 In Big Draft Dodging Plan

Prices Ranged Up To $5,000 For 'Deferment'

NEW YORK (AP)—The FBI arrested 38 men in daybreak raids today and said they have cracked draft-dodging schemes in New York and Cleveland which involved sale of fake enlistment papers for up to $5,000.

The raids netted 33 men in New York, including nine fathers and eight of their sons.

Five men involved in the Cleveland operation were arrested in that city; in Akron, Ohio; Chicago and Albany, N.Y., the FBI said.

The New York operation was cracked last month, officials said, with the arrest of two men accused of supplying fake enlistment papers for from $1,500 to $5,000 — whatever the traffic would bear.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Leonard Phebe said Solomon Gottfried, 56, a civil service worker who was once in the Air Force, had obtained a number of official Defense Department forms — No. DD-44, which is used to notify draft boards that a person has enlisted in a military unit.

Phebe said the customers were recruited by Paul G. Miller, 28, of Flushing, Queens, N.Y., a department store credit authorizer.

The prosecutor said Gottfried, who filled out the forms, got $200 to $400 per customer, with the rest going to Miller.

The pair, he said, had netted up to $80,000 since 1963.

In Cleveland, Special FBI agent Earl E. Brown said two National Guardsmen — Frank M. Kovach Jr., 22, of Parma, Ohio, and Donald Taylor, 29, of Cleveland, charged up to $600 to forward papers to draft boards showing that the men had enlisted in the Guard.

Kovach and Taylor were accused of aiding and abetting draft evasion.

LBJ Offers India Extra Grain Aid

Assures Minister Of US Assistance In Food Shortage

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson offered India today an extra 3.5 million tons of grain to help head off hunger for a friendly people.

His offer came as Mrs. Indira Gandhi, prime minister of India, took off for New York ending two days of talks with the President and other top U.S. officials.

In those talks, Johnson had given her strong assurances of U.S. help in meeting India's food emergency and long-range needs for economic development.

In addition to the grain, the President also proposed allotting 150 million pounds of vegetable oils, up to 125 million pounds of milk powder, 325,000 to 700,000 bales of cotton, and 2 million to 4 million pounds of tobacco.

In a special message to Congress, Johnson asked for endorsement of this action and "the strong and warm hearted and generous support of this program by the American people."

"India is a good and deserving friend," he said.

The extra 3.5 million tons of grain he offered India would be bread grains, mainly wheat. He invited other nations to match that amount and voiced delight that Canada was prepared to provide a million tons of wheat and flour.

India, the President said, estimates 6 to 7 million tons of food grain will be necessary through next December beyond amounts already committed or expected.

Mrs. Gandhi, before leaving for New York and Home, said the talks with Johnson brought closer understanding and renewed friendship.

Mrs. Gandhi and her official party used a presidential jet plane for the flight to New York.

Question On Presidential Succession

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—The Missouri House delayed action today on the proposed presidential succession amendment to the U.S. Constitution as members raised questions on some sections.

One was concerned about the procedure should both the president and vice president be killed in an accident or a double-barreled assassination.

Another wanted to know what would happen if the president's executive staff should hold him incommunicado or overthrow him as happened recently in Indonesia.

After shelving that problem for the time being the House turned to passage of the billion dollar budget bills for the operation of Missouri's government in the fiscal year beginning July 1.

There was none of the argument that delayed advancement of the bills Monday and Tuesday. They all passed today on near unanimous votes.

In first round arguments, the House staved off a dozen (Please turn to Page 14, Col. 7)

Visitors Wonder About Trash Heaps

Visitors to the city might wonder about the heaps of trash, old trunks and cardboard boxes which line some streets in Sedalia, but it's all part of a program initiated by Mayor L. L. Studer at the last regular council meeting.

At that time, Mayor Studer declared the week of March 28 to April 2 Clean-Up Week in Sedalia, and residents are taking advantage of it. The mayor requested that all unwanted items be placed in areas readily accessible to city facilities for pick-ups. That's why almost every garbage can in the city is accompanied by mounds of miscellaneous items this week.

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: I have always thought you were crazy. Now I am sure. What do you mean by telling parents to hide their bodies from their children? Don't you know this is the reason we have so many sex maniacs running around loose? They are the products of ignorant parents who encouraged shame and unsatisfied curiosity. Not only are you crazy but you are also inconsistent. In your column several months ago you told women they should not hide from their husbands. You said undressing in the closet was wrong. I stood up, cheered for you that time. I said to myself, "That Ann Landers has a good head on her shoulders." And then you let me down when you came out with that foolish theory on seduction. I wish the editor would throw your column out of our paper and print more farm news. — WISCONSIN READER.

Dear Reader: About my "inconsistency": I hope it will come as no surprise to you to learn that the relationship between a parent and a child of the opposite sex is not the same as the relationship between a man and his wife.

And now, I hate to keep you away from your tractor, Zeke, but I hope you'll stick around long enough to read the next letter:

The Junior College

Editor's Note: This is the first of four articles telling the Junior College story, the proposition to be voted and the program to be offered.

On April 5, 1966, the citizens of all the school districts of Pettis County, and the school districts of Lincoln, Warsaw and Cole Camp in Benton County will vote either for or against the proposition to establish the Junior College District of Sedalia, Mo. At the same time and on the same ballot, the Sedalia No. 200 school district will vote for three trustees, and the other school districts of Pettis and Benton counties will vote for three trustees, the resulting six trustees comprising the Board, if the proposal is accepted. This Board would be responsible for setting up the school, choosing the location, staffing, and ultimately be responsible for all the decisions concerning the school locally.

When asked what is a Junior College, Mr. Fred Davis, Administrator Junior Colleges, State Department of Education, stated: "The public Junior College has three major functions, (1) to provide two years of college parallel training, similar to what they would receive at other state institutions, (2) to provide training programs to help people become technically or vocationally competent, (3) and to provide adult education for those wishing to continue their education in certain areas.

In reply to the question, what is the purpose of the two year junior or community college, Dr. Edmund J. Gleazer, Jr., executive director, American Association of Junior Colleges wrote the following: "One of the modern day phenomena with which Americans have grown accustomed to living is crisis. Crisis in world relations, the economy, employment. We have learned to face up to crisis, and, what's more, we have usually found ways to bring order out of the chaos of crisis."

"We hear a lot these days about crisis in education. Not enough people are being taught well enough to meet the new professional and technical manpower needs of the space age. There aren't enough college classrooms to go around. We're short on teachers. It costs too much to go to college. Admissions requirements are too high for many. Myriad problems make up the academic crisis."

"For this, as with other crises, we seem to be finding answers. The crisis in higher education is being alleviated by the spread of the two year college, an educational resource that only in recent years has begun to show its full potential. "Some experts say that the two-year college is working a small revolution in higher education. It is doing so by bringing appropriate educational opportunities within the financial and geographic reach of many at the same time that it supplements and strengthens the programs of four-year institutions and advanced professional schools."

"The two-year colleges until recently have often stood in the shadows of their four-year brethren. Today these institutions make up a strong and important link in the educational chain. The two-year college is an institution offering occupational programs that cannot be matched elsewhere, and it offers the first two years of baccalaureate degree programs equal in quality to similar programs of other institutions."

"Education beyond the high school is fast becoming essential. This does not mean that the only avenue to career opportunities is the pursuit of the baccalaureate degree. College education need not necessarily be measured in terms of years of study or credit hours. It is often more appropriate to measure availability of education in terms of progress and courses that suit the needs and interests of the individual. The junior college provides a diversity of educational experience beyond the high school."

The junior colleges of the nation, and those of Missouri as well, are based on an open door policy, admitting students without prejudice to race, color, or religious preference, setting their goals for education of the needs of the people, rather than on the tradition and history of education.

"The people concerned in the Pettis-Benton county district will have an opportunity to vote on the Sedalia Junior College District Proposition," Mr. Fred Davis has stated. "Each common school district in the proposed Junior College district will have a polling place or places similar to the regular voting in common school district elections. Absentee ballots are available now in the six director school districts. Unfortunately, the law does not currently provide a provision for absentee voting in the three director school districts. For further information about absentee voting, contact your local superintendent of schools office."

Voter qualifications in the junior college vote are considered "Non-registered." "In the opinion of the Attorney General," said Mr. Bob Fritz, Pettis County prosecuting attorney, "you do not have to be registered to vote in a school election only. You must be over 21 years of age, a resident of Missouri for one year, and a resident of the school district in which you vote for 60 days prior to the election."

Air Force Keeps Open Mind For Flying Saucers Talk

By BOB HORTON

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force said today it has an open mind about unidentified flying objects — UFO's — and makes no attempt to hush talk about flying saucers.

A spokesman, asked about allegations that the Air Force tries to squelch UFO reports, said:

"In the first place, we'd be utterly foolish to try to keep people from telling about something they've seen with their own eyes. Our job is to explain what is seen — not necessarily to change anybody's mind."

Retired Marine Maj. Donald E. Keyhoe, head of a group called National Investigations Committee on Aerial Phenomena, told newsmen this week the Pentagon has a top-level policy of discounting all UFO reports. He said the Air Force over the years has used ridicule to discredit sightings.

Keyhoe made the assertion while endorsing a suggestion by House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford that a congressional inquiry into the flying saucer matter might be a good idea.

The Air Force has a special public relations office which answers thousands of letters a year from inquisitive persons — among them, school children, corporate officials, housewives, flying saucer club members and foreigners.

Last year it turned out 3,717 replies to letters about UFO's. The count for January and February already has run over 800 requests for information or explanations, and scores are being received in the wake of recent Michigan sightings.

Some replies by the Air Force are practically a form letter which says that the Air Force has no pictures of flying saucers, that it does not censor or keep secret reports about UFO's and that Congress has not yet seen fit to conduct an investigation in the matter.

Other replies give specific explanations to people who report seeing strange lights or mysterious objects.

Virtually all are accompanied by an annual report of Project Blue Book.

This project, started in 1947, has produced explanations for 9,501 of a total 10,147 sightings reported through 1965.

Project Blue Book has been unable to explain the 646 other UFO incidents and of these merely says: "The description of the object or its motion cannot be correlated with any known object or phenomena."

Based on the bulk of its findings, the Air Force has decided that most people do not see interplanetary space ships but bright stars, balloons, satellites, comets, fireballs, aircraft, moving clouds, vapor trails, missiles, reflections, mirages, searchlights, birds, kites, spurious radar indications, fireworks or flares.

In the case of the Michigan incidents, marsh gas was pinpointed as the source of colored lights observed by a number of people.

The answers the Air Force has been able to turn up have led it to these conclusions:

1. No UFO has ever given any indication of threat to the national security.

2. There is no evidence that UFO's represent technological developments or principles beyond present day scientific knowledge.

3. There is no evidence that any UFO's are "extra-terrestrial vehicles."

Send any clues, the Air Force says, to:

Computer Makes Right Decision

NEW YORK (AP) — Just for laughs, Neal Bitran and Arlene Gotkin paid $3 each last year for a list of names of people who would be compatible dates.

Neither knew the other. But they turned up on each other's lists, and now they plan to be married.

Arlene and Neal are a computer couple, paired by an organization called Operation Match. They took some time to form their own opinions about the computer opinion, but all three agreed in the end and the wedding is set for Sept. 3.

"The whole thing is just a glorified blind date," said Neal, 23. "It has to be taken in the proper perspective. If anyone thinks that Operation Match means a sure wedding, he's in for a surprise. We're sort of freaks — quirks of fate."

Arlene, 19, said a score of her girl friends also had tried their computer luck, but had not fared nearly so well.

"One girl tried three times," Arlene said, "and got names of compatible boys each time. But not one called her."

Operation Match was born at Harvard University and spread to colleges and universities throughout the country.

During a current spring drive for applicants, personality information on more than a million persons will be run through a computer.

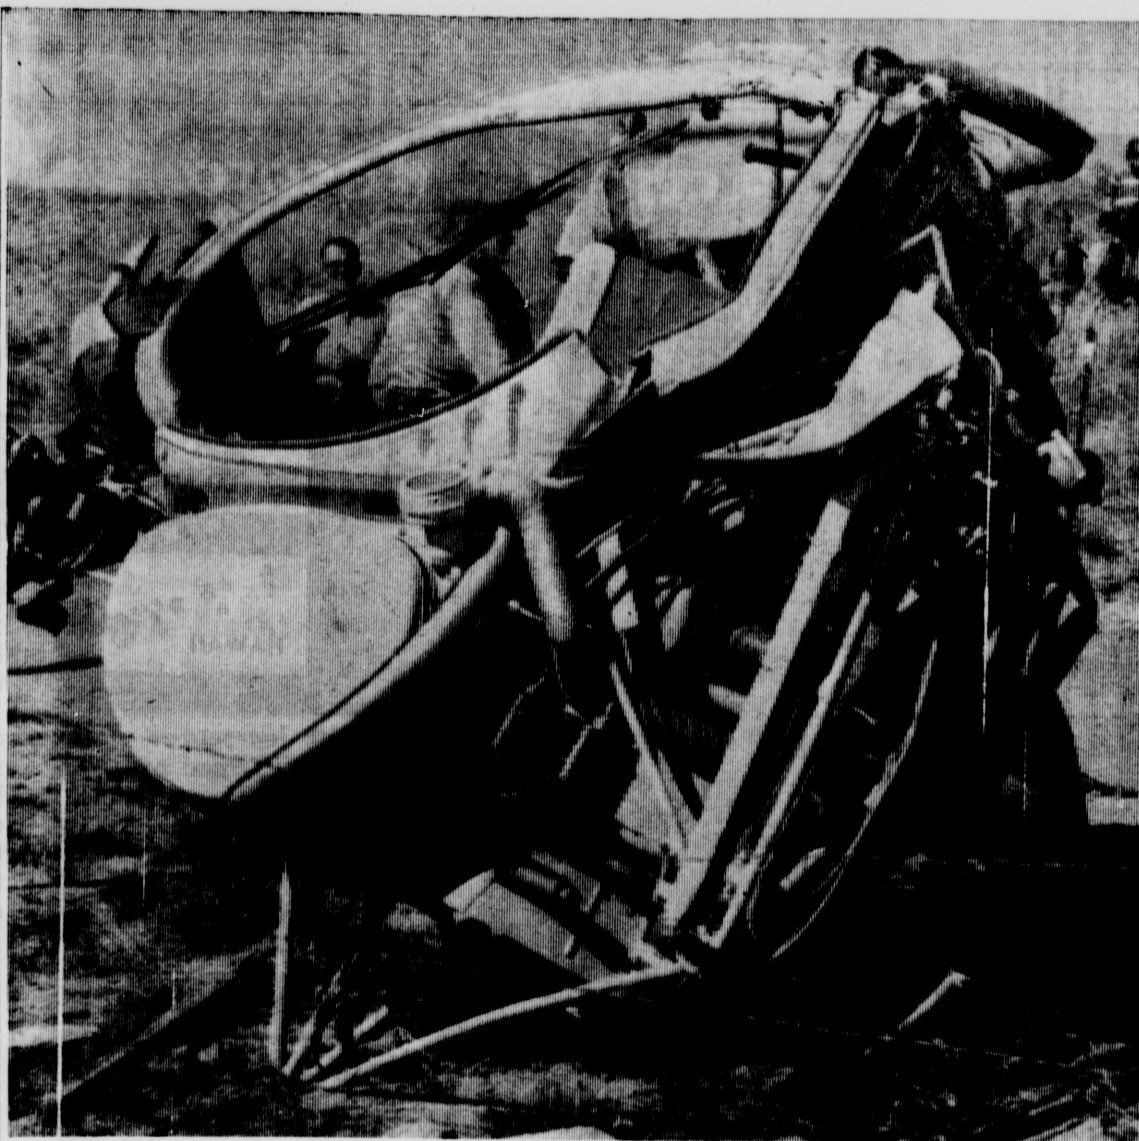

Each applicant is guaranteed a minimum of five names and addresses of persons electronically matched to their likes and dislikes.

"It was something like having an Aunt Tillie who says she has a girl for you to take out," Neal said. "Only this time, Aunt Tillie was IBM."

Did it ever occur to either of them that the computer might be wrong?

"Yes," said Arlene.

"No," said Neal.

Available Soldiers For State-Side Crisis Limited

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The force of Army and Marine divisions available in the United States for swift crisis duty is considerably smaller and less fit to fight than last summer.

There were 10 such divisions in this country late last July when President Johnson ordered a major buildup of ground units in Viet Nam. Eight were Army divisions, two Marine.

Most of these divisions were in reasonably good combat ready shape, although a few had sent elements to Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic.

Now there are but seven divisions in any kind of fighting shape — and a Defense Department spokesman acknowledged Tuesday that most of these are below full combat status because they are being used, in part, to train draftees and recruits.

Six of these divisions belong to the Army and one to the Marine Corps.

The Pentagon spokesman said four Army divisions "are not in the same combat ready status that they would have been" had they not been given the training mission.

"It was foreseen that some of these divisions would not be at full combat status at this time," he said.

But the spokesman said the divisions will be returned gradually to full combat readiness and some will reach that stage by June.

He listed the four as the 1st and 2nd Armored at Ft. Hood, Tex., the 4th Infantry at Ft. Lewis, Wash., and the 5th Mechanized at Ft. Carson, Colo. The Army Times, a nonofficial publication with strong service ties, said about 26,000 recruits are being trained by these four divisions.

Not mentioned by the spokesman was the 101st Airborne Division at Ft. Campbell, Ky. This division — which has shipped one brigade to the war — also is training new men. Reports place the total at 2,000.

A serviceman cannot be assigned overseas until he has had at least four months of training.

The Pentagon spokesman said that once a decision was made not to call reservists and National Guardsmen to active duty — but to build up the regular forces gradually — "it was foreseen that some of the divisions would be used" for training.

Army authorities said this action was necessary because Army training centers, though expanded, are overtaxed.

The Defense Department spokesman said "it was planned" that some of the Army divisions in the States would assume training functions.

"It was intended to be that way," he said. "It was not something that just came about."

The spokesman did not explain why the Pentagon had not previously disclosed the action, which he said was authorized last year.

There was no suggestion of this move in Secretary of De-

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP) — Charlie Brown, former 7th District Democratic congressman, has joined the Green Investment Co. in Springfield as an executive associate.

Elbert H. Green, a member of the firm, said Brown's connection with the company would start immediately.

Brown told a reporter he hopes to return to public life at "an appropriate time," but it will not be in 1966. He said he is discontinuing his Washington public relations office and will spend full time in Missouri.

Kan. Woman Named

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Jim Thorn, Jr., of Sedan, Kan., today was named as one of nine Democratic party workers for special recognition in nationwide competition.

Mrs. Thorn was selected for her "political leadership potential" and along with the other winners will receive an expense-paid trip to Washington April 18.

The winners were announced by a panel of judges headed by Miss Margaret Hickey of Missouri, public affairs editor of the Ladies Home Journal magazine.

Reunite Nun And Actress

ST. LOUIS (AP) — "She was the brightest young lady in the class," said actress Rosalind Russell, "and I was the stupidest."

Miss Russell was talking about her classmate of "some 30 years ago," Mother Superior Marie Joseph. The nun and the actress were reunited this week for the first time since they attended Marymount College in Tarrytown, N. Y.

The occasion was the premiere tonight of Miss Russell's latest movie, "The Trouble with Angels," a comedy in which she plays a Mother Superior. Proceeds from the premiere will go to the building fund of Marymount Catholic high school for girls in suburban Florissant which Mother Joseph opened last year with a freshman class of 36.

"I've always been lucky," Mother Joseph said. "I seem to know someone who knows someone, just at the right moment."

Miss Russell and Mother Joseph hadn't heard from each other after their college days until the actress received a telephone call in late 1964 from a person identifying herself as "Anne Rogan, the one with the two good-looking brothers."

"I remembered her when she said that about her brothers," Miss Russell said. "And after I'd answered, 'the devil you say,' she told me, 'maybe I'd better tell you I'm a nun — a Mother Superior.'"

Mother Joseph wanted Miss Russell to attend a party to raise funds for her school. Miss Russell, who was about to start work on "The Trouble with Angels," decided a benefit premiere of the picture would raise more money than a party. She persuaded Columbia Pictures to hold the first showing in St. Louis.

Last Year's Accident Record

Motor-vehicle deaths throughout the nation rose 3 per cent in 1965 over the 1964 death total, according to National Safety Council estimates. Total reported for 1964 was 47,700 while preliminary figure for 1965 is 49,000. In both years, there were more deaths during each of last-half months than during first six. Peak fatality month for 1964 was August, with 4,840 deaths. It was December for 1965, with 4,940 fatalities.

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—A niece of President Johnson has returned to Austin from a wedding trip in Las Vegas.

She is the former Rebekah Alexander, whose husband is David George Shulman, a biology major. The couple attend the University of Texas.

Shulman is the son of Mrs. Harry Shulman of Austin.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Birge Davis Alexander of Fort Worth. Mrs. Alexander is the former Lucia Johnson, the President's sister.

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP)—Miss Annie Lee Singletary, a fashion editor, says "the only thing high about high fashion today is the price and the hemline."

In an address to a fashion group at the University of Missouri in Columbia, Miss Singletary put part of the blame on what she said are too much publicity to way-out fashion and men designers who hate women.

Miss Singletary, who won a $1,500 award from an editors workshop at the university, is fashion editor of the Twin City Sentinel and Winston-Salem, N. C., Journal.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine, answered quickly and diplomatically when she received an invitation to buy apparel from a men's clothing firm.

"... I think I would look a bit odd wearing men's clothes and it might be misunderstood," she wrote.

Tom Hickey of the Hickey-Freeman Co., which sent the "Dear sir" invitation was just diplomatic.

"Undoubtedly you 'got on the list' because we, like many other people, feel that you do a 'man-size job.' We are indeed flattered and feel that you are a good sport to acknowledge our letter."

NEW YORK (AP)—When Frank Elii decided to develop his literary gifts he had plenty of time — he was imprisoned at Stillwater, Minn., serving a 10-to-80-year sentence for robbery.

There was plenty of material to write about too, because he'd been in and out of 11 jails and prisons over the last 20 years.

The result was his first novel, "The Riot," an account of a two-day riot in prison.

Now out on parole, Elii is working on a revision of his second novel.

Tuesday Coward-McCann Inc. presented him with a $10,000 literary prize for the work. The firm will publish the book early next year.

Cal Tech Students Made UFO's

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—The ivy-clad halls of California Institute of Technology have launched a high-level hoax.

Two Caltech students admitted Tuesday they and others were responsible for flying objects sighted by hundreds Monday night.

The objects, on 8-foot-diameter plastic balloons, were red flares hanging from rotating blades. The contraptions were launched behind Fleming House dormitory by students using walkie-talkies to observe the movements of campus guards.

Residents of Fleming House made four of the "unidentified flying objects" in steampipe tunnels beneath the campus, equipping them with aluminum foil streamers so that on radar screens they would seem to be a block long.

The first balloon was loosed last Wednesday night. Two more were launched Friday and Saturday but were obscured by low clouds.

The most successful was set free Monday night. Police reported hundreds of calls from residents who had sighted a UFO "zipping along at fantastic speed."

Although the boys escaped detection by campus guards, they were spotted by an unidentified woman employee of Caltech who told police.

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—A bright blue ball with a tail of sparks 8 to 10 feet long is the way they described it.

People in Newton, Hickory and other North Carolina towns saw it Sunday night. So did some in Union, S.C.

Possibly a meteor, said the Weather Bureau.

Could have been "cosmic debris," said officials at the Moorehead Planetarium in Chapel Hill.

Folks who prefer to remain completed basic training at Lackland AFB, Tex.

He attended Central Missouri State College.

Deadline For Medicare Is Thursday Night

WASHINGTON (AP)—Persons over 65 have only until Thursday night to sign up for the voluntary doctor bill insurance plan that becomes effective July 1 under the medicare program.

Social Security officials said they expect a last-minute rush of enrollments to push the number signed up to nearly 90 per cent of the more than 16.5 million persons eligible.

The agency's offices will stay open late tonight and until midnight Thursday to accommodate the estimated 1.6 million persons who have not as yet registered. Those signing up will pay a premium of $3 monthly.

Muralist Dies

PLAINFIELD, N.H. (AP)—Maxfield Parrish, 85, an artist who won fame as a magazine illustrator and muralist, died Wednesday.

Parrish was born in Philadelphia in 1870, the son of Stephen Parrish, himself an internationally known painter and etcher.

They said the wind caught the contraption and away it went.

Soldier Survives Kite Trip

FT. CAMPBELL, Ky. (AP)—After flying like a kite behind an airplane traveling 135 miles an hour, a young paratrooper freed himself and landed safely.

"It was like getting a second chance," said Pfc. Michael A. McDonald, 17, of Missoula, Mont.

McDonald, a member of the 101st Airborne Division here, landed in a pine tree after freeing himself from tangled parachute lines during a training exercise over North Carolina Tuesday.

The static line connecting the soldier's parachute to a C119 transport failed to disconnect during the practice assault, the Army said, and McDonald flew behind the plane for nearly seven minutes.

One of 224 Ft. Campbell troops taking part in the exercise, he had leaped from the aircraft at 1,500 feet.

Crewmen on the plane were unable to haul McDonald aboard because his arms had become entangled in lines connecting his shoulder harness with the parachute canopy.

After clearing his arms, he signaled the crewmen he was conscious, the Army said, and the static line snapped, enabling him to fall free of the plane.

His reserve parachute opened at 300 feet, McDonald said.

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP)—President Liu Shao-chi and Foreign Minister Chen yi of Communist China arrived in Karachi today on the last leg of their six-day visit to West Pakistan.

They were received by Foreign Minister Z.A. Bhutto, who flew here earlier from Lahore, the West Pakistani capital, where the Chinese officials spent Tuesday.

Bhutto told a news conference in Lahore Tuesday that the United States should not worry about Pakistan's increasingly close ties with Communist China.

Pakistan's acceptance of Chinese-made weapons "does not stem from a policy change," Bhutto said. "The Chinese are our friends, but they know that the Americans are our allies, they must take that into account."

ATHENS (AP)—The Union of Greek Army Reserve Officers has expelled Prince Peter, a cousin of King Constantine, because of criticisms he made in Hong Kong of the Greek government and the royal family.

An announcement published today said the union also asked the Defense Ministry to strip the 56-year-old prince of his rank of colonel in the reserve. Prince Peter was an honorary member of the union and its former president.

The prince told a news conference in Hong Kong last week that "the political situation in Greece has departed from constitutional, parliamentary and democratic rule. The present Greek government is not representative of the Greek people."

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP)—A Hungarian couple has been sentenced to 16 months imprisonment in absentia for remaining in the West after leaving Hungary on valid passports, the Budapest Central Court announced today.

Although the sentence cannot be enforced, the prosecutor said it would serve "to keep ill-advised Hungarians from doing the same."

The defendants were Istvan Barna, former head of an animal marketing board in west Hungary's Fejer county, and his wife. Authorities did not disclose their whereabouts.

BERLIN (AP)—West Berlin police are looking for hijackers who drove a trailer truck 312 miles from West Germany, then left it parked with its $62,500 cargo almost intact.

The thieves paid $20 in road tolls to bring the truck through Communist East Germany and brought gas for the trip from the town of Dueren near the Belgian border.

All that was missing from the cargo of industrial products, rugs, paper and cloth was a small rug worth $28 and two rolls of cloth worth $675.

A patrol car spotted the truck on Sunday. The truck was stolen at Dueren on Saturday with all its documents in the glove compartment.

UFO Spots Questioned

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—

Three space scientists have questioned the idea of flying saucers being seen by earthmen.

Dr. Paul A. Campbell, a pioneer in space medicine, believes that the sighted flying saucers are all in the minds of those who report seeing them.

Dr. John S. Hall, astronomer at Lowell Observatory in Arizona, feels that tourists from other planets would have more sophisticated tastes than the sightings indicate.

Dr. Edward C. Walsh expressed concern more for those who sighted the saucer than for the locations of the sightings.

"So many airline pilots report seeing them," said Walsh, executive secretary of the National Aeronautics and Space Council. "That's why I take the train."

The men made their views known Tuesday at a convention here.

"People are anxious to believe that there is intelligent life on other planets," said Campbell, and thus "see flying saucers because they want to see flying saucers."

Campbell, discussing reported sightings of unidentified flying objects, called the reports a mechanism for escaping from more earthy troubles and worries.

Hall said he couldn't see why a civilization with technology so advanced that it could send a manned and maneuverable space ship a distance of at least three light years, would have that spaceship hover over swamps in Michigan or crossroads in Oklahoma.

"They could be peek-a-boeing Paris, New York, or London," he pointed out.

The astronomer said he felt the planet Venus is mistaken for a flying saucer by many persons.

US Begins To Meet Its Cash Pledge

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a major policy speech April 7, 1965, President Johnson pledged an American investment of $1 billion for the economic and social development of all of Asia — provided other nations also helped.

Less than one year later, he announced in a March 16 ceremony at the White House, "We have begun to redeem that pledge. This is the first step of what I conceive to be a very long journey." With that he signed legislation authorizing U.S. participation in the Asian Development Bank.

Some Johnson administration critics have called the response of the Asian nations to the President's Johns Hopkins University speech last year disappointing and low-keyed.

But Eugene R. Black, 68-year-old former World Bank president, who came out of retirement to serve without pay as Johnson's special advisor on Southeast Asia, considers the challenge big, exciting and filled with opportunity.

In his Johns Hopkins speech, Johnson said "neither independence nor human dignity will ever be won by arms alone. It also requires the works of peace."

"Coming out of that speech," said Black in an interview, is the possibility that if the countries get together, and if they can have peace, they will have the money available to them for development.

"We feel strongly that before we give them money, they have got to do their part. They have big populations and big problems. There are enormous possibilities there."

Black noted that there were two strings attached to the President's offer — first — that Asian nations should present their own programs for action; second, that other countries join with the U.S. in the cooperative development effort.

Black said it was decided that the first thing to do was to help get the Asian Development Bank started. The United States had been cool to the project in the past, but it represented Asian initiative and had the support of other countries. U.S. objections were withdrawn and $200 million was offered toward the $1 billion capitalization.

Some 31 nations joined in signing the bank charter in Manila last December, and by next September it is anticipated that 15 nations will have ratified the charter and the bank can begin functioning in its new Manila headquarters.

The United States has offered to establish a $100 million trust fund for Southeast Asia to be administered by the bank, Black said, if other nations will match that amount.

The second major achievement has been in the international cooperation which brought the United States and seven other countries to pledge $21.4 million for the construction of the largest Mekong River project thus far. That is the Nam Ngum Power and Dam Project near Vientiane, the capital of Laos. The United States has pledged one half of this amount under the Johnson program and the remainder is being contributed by Japan, the Netherlands, Canada, Thailand, Denmark, Australia and New Zealand.

Newcomers Club Meets For Formation Steps

A Newcomers Club was formally organized March 8 at Missouri State Bank community room. Its purpose will be to encourage development of fellowship among new residents and assimilation into civic life and social activities in Sedalia.

A slate of officers was drawn up, to be presented at the first general meeting at Ft. Creek Inn March 28. Luncheon will be served at noon. Those wishing to play bridge have been invited to arrive at 11 a.m.

There will be discussion about formation of interest groups for such things as bridge, sewing, knitting, arts and crafts and book review.

HISTORIC MOMENT—Parasol-toting Miss America, Deborah Bryant, and San Francisco cable car gripman Luther Cann, checking out his windshield wipers, appear to have gotten their weather signals temporarily crossed, but it's still a big moment. Miss America's official visit to San Francisco lent glamor to an historic occasion—installation of the electrically operated wipers as the first innovation in cable cars in nearly 100 years.

Pincher Movement

Family Budgets Are Facing Rising Taxes And Prices

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — The rising cost of living and rising tax payments could put a pincher squeeze on many a family budget.

This means that people would have less money after taxes with which to pay the higher prices that already are here or announced as on the way.

It is one aspect — a highly personal one for most families — of the debate over the threat of inflation and the need for higher taxes as a curb on future and steeper price increases.

The tax bite already is sharper. Talk of a further boost at the federal level blows hot and cold.

Tax payments that already have gone up this year are the Social Security levies, excise taxes on new cars, and on phone calls. Soon to shrink many pay checks will be larger withholding for federal income taxes, although the total bill will stay the same — at least for the time being. Many state and community taxes have gone up, too, with more increases apparently on the way.

The rise in the cost of living has been pretty well distributed all along the line of goods and services for more than a year. But in recent months the biggest item has been a jump in food prices.

Here, government officials are holding out hopes that the worst may be over, or nearly so. They expect food supplies to expand during the spring and summer.

One disturbing prospect is the probable effect of the big jump which wholesale prices took last month — the biggest rise since the Korean War. It will take time for many of these price hikes to work their way into the price tags on consumer items.

Higher prices usually are classed as the sign of, or end product of, inflation. Higher

Money For Building Is Out Of Bill

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — The Senate Appropriations Committee whacked $500,000 out of an emergency money bill Tuesday to condemn and buy the old Tweedie footwearer plant between the state Capitol and the executive mansion.

taxes are advocated as a curb on inflation.

The argument is that if individuals and corporations have to pay larger tax bills, they won't have the money to bid up prices on consumer or industrial goods and materials. A spending spree by consumers make price increases both easier and more likely.

The House approved the special allotment at the request of Gov. Warren E. Hearnes. Action of the Senate committee means the question could be reconsidered when the bill reaches a House-Senate conference committee.

A St. Louis developer has an option to build a hotel on the site.

Also struck from the emergency bill to keep state agencies going until June 30 was $157,229 for the motor vehicle registration unit in the Department of Revenue.

Sen. J.F. Patterson D-Caruthersville, chairman, said the committee felt the request needed additional justification.

Also cut out was $43,300 for the Department of Corrections to help finance a federal-state rehabilitation training program. Patterson said the item would be reconsidered in conference when additional information is received.

Otherwise the committee made only minor changes in the bill, some of them corrective.

For example $20,000 was added to pay for contractual services at the Mt. Vernon tuberculosis sanatorium, the Workmen's Compensation Division got $21,000 more to finish out the year and the Division of Mental Diseases $3,000 to return non-resident patients to their home states.

The Senate Committee on Economics cleared for passage a bill that would allow the state to pay the first $40 of hospitalization costs for old age assistance recipients and $10 a day for the 60th to 90th day of hospitalization.

This complements the new federal Medicare plan.

ENTERTAINERS—The curtain goes up tonight at 8 in the S-C auditorium on "Salute to Broadway," the theme of this year's Smith-Cotton PTA Variety and Style Show under the direction of Mrs. Carl Schrader. More than 70 S-C high school students are participating in the show and eight stores each of the two nights (Wednesday and Thursday) are having Sedalia models show their new spring clothing styles. The colorful backdrop decorations which sweep the entire stage were prepared by S-C art students under the direction of Miss Gwendolyn Tuck. Shown above is the entire cast of entertainers. (Democrat-Capital photo)

To Curb Economic Growth

5 Percent Income Tax Hike May Be Part of Weapon

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 5 per cent increase in personal income taxes coupled with a boost in corporation taxes is one possible tax combination the Johnson administration could seek to dampen the continually expanding economy.

President Johnson indicated Tuesday he might seek a tax increase as early as next month if prices continue to rise. Such an increase would be designed to take a temporary and relatively quick bite from purchasing power.

The most likely recommendation, if the administration rules that a tax increase is needed, is a combination of personal and corporate tax hikes rather than any selective increases.

Raising personal income taxes by 5 per cent would remove about $2.5 billion in purchasing power from the economy each year.

Coupling this with a two-point increase in corporation taxes — from 48 to 50 per cent — would raise about $4 billion in revenue each year. A one-point boost in corporate taxes increases revenues by about $700 million.

These percentages could be varied up and down depending on how much money the administration decided it wanted to remove from the economy — if it made that decision at all.

Treasury officials who are working on contingency plans for a tax increase — or a reduction if it should ever be needed to stimulate the economy — have reached no firm decisions on a package of taxes the administration could use to cool the economy.

Major discussions, however, have centered around individual and corporate rates.

Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler only last week reiterated his opposition to suspending the 7 per cent investment credit and the Treasury has hardly considered an excess profits tax on corporations because it considers it too difficult to administer.

There have been few serious suggestions for raising excise taxes again.

Neutrality is the key word in the Treasury's thinking on contingency tax planning.

This means that no change in tax structure — favoring one income group over another — should be made for an antiinflation tax boost. Stanley S. Surrey, assistant secretary of the Treasury for tax matters, has said changes in structure require much public and congressional debate and there won't be time for this if a tax increase is needed to dampen inflationary trends.

The new tax measure signed by President Johnson earlier this month is designed to raise about $6 billion over the next 15 months for the Viet Nam war.

It repealed excise tax cuts which went into effect last Jan. 1 but did not raise taxes on individuals and corporations. It merely speeded up collection of the tax and put taxpayers on a tighter pay-as-you-go basis.

The individual withholding rate at present is 14 per cent. But it will be placed on a graduated scale from 14 to 40 per cent May 1. The first tax bite for corporations under the new law will be felt in their April 15 payment.

Medicare Could Hike State Taxes

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Extension of medical services to Missouri's needy under Medicare could mean an increase in state taxes, Gov. Warren E. Hearnes cautioned Tuesday night.

The governor, who addressed the Missouri Medical Association, urged care and deliberation in extending Medicare under state supervision.

"We must be sure," Hearnes said, "that state income will support such medical programs if they are enacted into law, hopefully without tax increases."

"Too often programs are launched in Washington to the clarion call of trumpets, but become realities only when accompanied by the muted sound of dollars making whispered exits from state treasuries."

Adoption of Title 19 of the Medicare Act by the Legislature would expand health services to needy older citizens, dependent children, the disabled and the blind, but at considerable state expense, Hearnes said.

"That part of Title 19 relating to payment for physicians' services to all persons on assistance rolls could, alone, involve a very large outlay of monies," the governor explained.

"All states must either adopt Title 19 by Jan. 1, 1970, or lose federal matching funds for medical care. Title 10 could have tremendous impact upon our state's fiscal position in the years to come."

It is estimated that Missouri medical programs previously held to $2 million annually would cost from $5 to $10 million a year in state tax funds under Title 19.

The association installed Dr. Byron M. Stuart of Boonville as president. Gold pins commemorating a half century of medical service were presented to 20 doctors.

At a panel session Tuesday, Medicare was pictured as a combined federal, state and local task. Various phases of the program were described by Howard L. Bost of Baltimore, deputy director of the Social Security's bureau of health insurance; Procter N. Carter of Jefferson City, director of Missouri's Division of Welfare; and Dr. Ernest B. Howard of Chicago, assistant executive vice president of the American Medical Association.

Dr. Avery P. Rowlette of Moberly, member of the State Wel-

Seized Weapons Returned To Minuteman Head

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Weapons seized in July at a Minuteman headquarters in Independence, Mo., were returned Tuesday to the militant, right-wing organization's leader, Robert B. DePugh of Norborne, Mo.

Lawrence F. Gepford, Jackson County prosecutor, said he ordered the weapons returned at the request of William H. Costello, attorney for DePugh. The prosecutor said Costello could have forced their return through a civil suit because none was needed for evidence in two cases against DePugh.

DePugh is awaiting trial on indictments returned in August charging him with possessing bombs and bombshells and contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

The weapons seized by Independence police and the county prosecutor's office included a bazooka, two mortars, two sten guns and parts of two machine guns—none of them operable.

Gepford said the weapons apparently were used in Minutemen training sessions. He said DePugh and a brother, Bill De-

Pugh, loaded them on a pickup truck and drove away.

The return of the weapons, said Gepford, "does not in any way affect the attitude or intention of my office regarding the prosecution of DePugh."

Two Persons Killed In Two Accidents

DEFIANCE, Mo. (AP)—Two traffic accidents 10 minutes apart in eastern Missouri killed two persons and injured three other persons Tuesday.

Dead are Carl Schemmer, 62, of Defiance and Edward Volner, 39, of Centerville, Mo.

The Highway Patrol said Schemmer was driving a tractor that was struck from the rear by a car on county highway F, near Defiance.

Injured in the car were Donna Karen Vogt, 17, and Brenda White, 16, both of Defiance, and John Boettger, 18, of Festus. The girls were in satisfactory condition in Lincoln County Hospital at Troy and Boettger was in fair condition at St. Joseph's Hospital in St. Charles.

Volner was killed when he lost control of his auto on a curve on state highway 21 near DeSoto and it hit the end of a bridge over Cotter Creek.

PIN-WORMS A FAMILY AFFAIR

Fidgeting, nose-picking, a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms...ugly parasites that medical experts say infect 1 out of every 8 persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it. To get rid of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do... and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with dangerous, highly contagious Pin-Worms which infect entire families. Get genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge... small, easy-to-take tablets... special sizes for children and adults.

Education Group Will Conclude Meeting Today

SANTA FE, N. M. (AP)—The steering committee for the new Interstate Compact for Education concludes its two-day meeting today with a discussion of proposed studies.

The committee Tuesday ordered the post of executive director of the compact commission to Dr. Wendell H. Pierce, superintendent of schools in Cincinnati, Ohio.

Pierce said he has a contract with the Cincinnati Board of Education to August of next year and would have to consult with his board before accepting the $40,000-a-year post.

Pierce, 53, has been superintendent in Cincinnati since 1959 and has been associated with the Cincinnati school system since 1939. He began his career in Iowa schools as a high school teacher in 1933.

Concern was expressed over appointment of possibly too many advisory committees and a motion was adopted to establish guidelines. During debate on the issue, State Sen. Richard Webster of Missouri said:

"I think advisory committees should be appointed as studies are being made. If we decide to make a study on junior colleges, then that's the time to appoint an advisory committee oriented toward junior college education."

"I think we're embarking on a dangerous course if we establish too many committees. First let's decide what it is we're going to do," Webster said.

Statler-Hilton Hotel In St. Louis Is Sold

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Towne Realty Co. of Milwaukee announced Tuesday that it had purchased the Statler-Hilton Hotel in St. Louis and will take over operation April 1.

Joseph Zilber, president of Towne, said the purchase was made because of the revitalization of the downtown area, which he feels will continue. He would not disclose the transaction price.

The 650-room hotel, owned by the Hilton Corporation since 1955, will be called the St. Louis Gateway Hotel. It is the ninth hotel in the midwest purchased by Towne.

Forty-two years of uninterrupted service.

New Drug For Cancer Is Studied

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Writer

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A scientist reported today development of a two-faced, Jekyll-and-Hyde type of cancer-fighting drug which apparently becomes evil only when it hits cancer cells.

It's a new and seemingly safer version of the cancer-attacking nitrogen-mustard drugs that are chemical cousins of skin-blistering poison gases used on World War I battlefields.

The new drug — so far used only in animals but with promising results — has been dubbed a "stingless mustard," in that it attacks cancer cells like conventional mustards, but apparently lacks their unwanted "sting" for normal cells.

Dr. Ziron O. Papanastasiou of Arthur D. Little, Inc., Cambridge, Mass., told about it in a report prepared for the 151st national meeting of the American Chemical Society.

He said the synthetic compound — called ADL-45 — has shown high activity against a wide variety of experimental animal tumors, especially against two types of leukemia cells. Further testing is under way, looking towards the possibility of trials in humans, he said.

But he declared in an interview supplementing his technical report that "I am only very cautiously optimistic" about whether it will be useful against human malignancy.

"It is difficult to tell, at this time," he said, "the significance of our work."

"Cancer is a dreadful disease affecting a large number of people, and therefore any agent that looks promising is of interest."

"On the other hand, we are well aware that many new compounds which have been shown to offer some promise in animal experiments have not proved so promising for the clinical control of (human) cancer."

Teachers Hear Legislative, Other Issues

The large membership of the Sedalia Community Teachers Association heard Dr. Marvin Shamberger, Director of Research with the Missouri State Teachers Association, discuss legislation and other significant problems concerning teachers and education, last Thursday in the Smith-Cotton Auditorium.

Dr. Shamberger was introduced by James Braden, Sedalia CTA Vice-President. During the meeting both Braden and Mrs. Edith Donath, president, announced that the Sedalia CTA had made its full contribution to the National Education Association Million Dollar Fund, which is a special fund set up for the purpose of helping teachers in the profession who through some misfortune beyond their control have special problems about job relocations or need other assistance.

Mrs. Louella Browder read the minutes of the last meeting and also read some correspondence. In the absence of Harold Johnson, who was absent from the other educational meeting, Mrs. Browder gave the treasurer's report.

Following this, Barry Williams, co-ordinator of the Junior Chamber of Commerce effort concerning Junior College here, gave a short talk about the importance of passing this issue on April 5. Mrs. Doretta Waite, local NEA travel consultant then announced a special 47 day tour this summer available to teachers in Europe. Mrs. Ethel Lyon, chairman of the nominating committee, then stated that at the next meeting the teachers would vote upon various candidates for new officers. Miss Barbara Freund announced a meeting of Sedalia Alumni Chapter of Central Missouri State College on April 13 at 6:30 p.m. at the Masonic Temple.

Luther Scott Given Dinner For Birthday

Luther Scott, Route 1, was honored at a birthday dinner March 30 at his home. Jimmy Scott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Scott, who left for service that afternoon, was also an honored guest.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Coffelt and family, Mrs. Maud Leonard and Miss Edith Leonard, Clarkburg; Mrs. Mary Aldredge, California; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Leonard, Tip-ton; Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Leuze, Booneville; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Newkirk.

Tallman Will Stay In Business
By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The news item seemed to imply the death of a dream:
Costa Mesa, Calif. (AP) — Two Nebraska firms have purchased a group of 45 antique airplanes valued at about $2 million from the Movieland of the Air Museum.
The dream belonged to Paul Mantz and Frank Tallman, two legendary movie pilots. Between them, they had flown a vast number of the great air stunts in Hollywood films, from "Hell's Angels" to "The Carpetbaggers."
While maintaining their movie business, the two men pursued their longtime ambition to open a museum that would preserve the classic airplanes from the earliest days of flight through World War II. Three years ago they opened their Movieland of the Air at Orange County Airport.
Last July Mantz performed his last stunt, losing his life in a makeshift plane he was piloting. "Flight of the Phoenix." Then Tallman had an accident that led to amputation of a leg. The announcement of the sale to the Nebraska firms sounded like the end of Movieland of the Air. But a call to Tallman indicated otherwise.
"I expect to be in the same business for another hundred years," he announced. "What I did was the same as 20th Century-Fox selling their backlot. I had an immensely valuable capital investment, and I decided to dispose of some of the one-of-a-kind airplanes that were seldom used in movies."
"But I've still got 35 airplanes, and it may be a year before the others leave. So the museum is still open for business, and I will continue to be. I've kept all the camera planes and movie equipment, so we're still in business for the studios, too."
And Frank Tallman is still available as pilot, he added.
"I've got a new leg, and it's working fine," he said. "I walk without a cane now. I've got a sailor's roll, but that will go away with practice."

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy has sent two officers to Western Ireland to get a three-foot-long cylindrical metal object found there which had some markings indicating it may have come from the sunken submarine Thresher.

The object washed up at Killee and is marked "Thresher... radioactive." But the Navy said it "cannot confirm that a piece of equipment from the USS Thresher was found off the coast of Ireland."

The object is to be taken to the U.S. Polaris submarine base at Holyloch, Scotland, for further study, the Navy said, adding "a statement will be made when the item is positively identified."

The submarine Thresher was lost off New England in 1963 with 129 Navy men and civilians aboard.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators and House members spent nearly twice as much abroad last year as the previous year. But most of the spending was covered by U.S.-held counterpart funds obtained from the sale of farm products for foreign currencies.

Overseas trips by senators and their staffs cost $190,086 compared with $157,575 in 1964.

while trips by House members and staffs cost $499,585, compared with $239,300.

The over-all total for the trip was a record $695,671 compared with the 1964 total of $396,875.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Leroy F. Shantz, former director of the Missouri Division of Employment Security, has been appointed to the new position of chief of the Division of Immigration Services in the Labor Department.

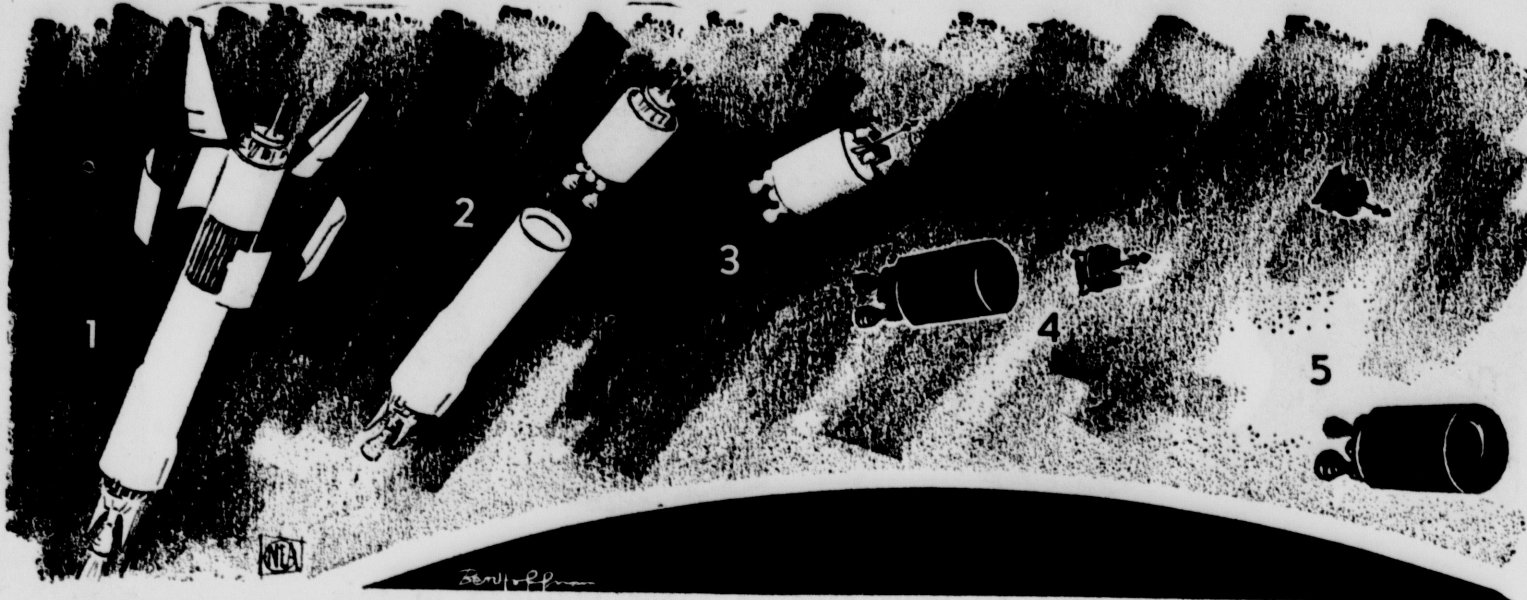

Shantz will head an office created by the 1965 Immigration Act to certify aliens applying for admission as permanent immigrants to work in the United States.

The Treasury announced Tuesday the appointment of Raymond J. Albright, 36, as deputy assistant to the secretary of the Treasury for national security affairs. Albright will be principal assistant to Charles A. Sullivan, assistant to the secretary for national security affairs.

Daylight Saving Time Bill Vote Is Anticipated

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House votes today on a bill expected to put most of the country on Daylight Saving Time for six months of each year starting in 1967. Approval is considered certain.

The Senate passed the compromise measure Tuesday shortly after Senate-House conferees reached agreement on it. The final measure is exactly the version originally passed by the House.

The bill, designed to bring uniformity into a multiplicity of summer fast-time systems over the nation, would:

—Require an area wishing to observe DST this year to put it into effect from the last Sunday in April to the last Sunday in October.

—Put the entire nation next year and after on DST for this six-month period but permit a state to be kept on standard time of its legislature so votes. In such case, the whole state would remain on standard time.

Young Boy Dies Of Dynamiting Injuries

DEERING, Mo. (AP)—A 17-year-old boy died today of injuries apparently received while dynamiting stumps on a farm near Deering Tuesday.

Scott Pacifico of Deering died in a Hayti hospital. A man working with Scott, H. G. Mansfield, 61, of Deering, was reported in critical condition at the hospital.

The sheriff's office said the youth's uncle, J. B. McDonald, said he found his nephew and Mansfield lying on the ground near a dynamited stump in the field.

Five Year Contract

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Carpenters District Council Tuesday night approved a five-year contract with the Greater Kansas City Builders Association providing for a $1.10-an-hour economic package over the period.

Under the new contract the 6,000 carpenters in the area will receive 21 cents an hour increase for the first two years, a 20-cent increase in the third year, of which 15 cents will go to the pension fund; a 23-cent increase in the fourth year, for wages and fringe benefits and a 25-cent increase in the fifth year, entirely in wages.

Pilot Is Grounded: Time Right

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — They've grounded Capt. Jack Spey, and he agrees it was high time.

The big, blond pilot from Southern Pines, N.C. has flown his last C123 mission in Viet Nam and will return to the United States as an instructor.

"It was time, I guess," the veteran of four years in the war theater said. "I've been under fire just about enough and have seen a lot of buddies hit. That can get to be an emotional problem."

Spey's major task was the defoliation program, with his duties among the most dangerous in the fight against the Viet Cong. To defoliate, he had to bring his twin-engine cargo plane "right in on the deck," at tree-top level and hold it there for about four minutes to unload the chemical that withers the jungle and deprives the insurgents of protective cover.

At that level and flying pretty slowly, the C123s are tempting targets for groundfire even though they are accompanied by fighter cover.

Spey's crew has been hit but he never got a bullet. He and his various copilots always alternated in their jobs. One day he would fly the craft while the copilot worked the engines, a difficult job at low level. Next time he would take the copilot's seat.

"The copilot really has the harder job," he said. "It's real teamwork and both of you must know just what the other one is thinking. You don't make pre-planned strategy. It all depends what you run into down there. Then it takes split-second adjusting to the situation and that copilot has to give you the thrust you need for the tactic you've adopted. There's no time for talk, it must be instinctive."

The captain, 27, won the Distinguished Flying Cross last year. His plane was clobbered by groundfire. One engine was shot out.

"I was right on the deck and groaning over a village full of Viet Cong and they all seemed to be firing on us at the same time," he recalled. "I was really scared even though fighters and helicopters all came to help. A loose cable we hadn't noticed at first meant we were not getting full thrust on the remaining engine. I fought that thing until I got over the water and up to 2,500 feet but it was pretty sick ship. We readied for ditching but I finally got down at Soc Trang."

Spey has been in the defoliation program almost since it started and however rough and noisy some critics think the C123 workhorse is, the captain loves them.

"They're simple and reliable," he said.

The chemical sprayed on jungle and other foliage is a commercial type used in the United States. It is dispensed at the height of the growing season. Grasses die within three to four days. In six weeks leaves wrinkle up and drop off. The chemical does not sterilize the soil.

CBS News Special Falls Short

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — CBS

News made a valiant effort Tuesday night to present a subject much in the headlines and plunging a large segment of the civilian, law enforcement and legal community. It involves allegations of police brutality and disregard of the rights of the accused on one hand and stringent legal restraints on police procedures on the other.

"CBS Reports" presented the tangled and emotion-wrapped subject in some sort of understandable visual form. But it failed simply because it was impossible to get candid shots to illustrate the vital points.

"The Policeman's Lot" summarized the problem by narration and the usual statements by authorities and experts. It quoted the awesome statistics — 14 serious crimes per 1,000 population, a 13 per cent increase in crime last year over 1964, New York City police alone receiving more than four million telephone calls a year, most of them for help, 25 per cent of all big-city arrests for drunkenness and vagrancy.

But when it came to illustrating the heart of the matter, there were no pictures of policemen interrogating a suspect, and no film showing a suggestion of police brutality.

The program was at its best when it focused on the smaller, more human aspects of police work. There were shots made in a station house as the desk lieutenant handled an assortment of routine problems — family rows, street fights, drunks, cranks, small thieves and rapists.

The point made by the program was that our courts are becoming increasingly sensitive about the rights of the accused with the result that police are finding court-ordered restraints and directives increasingly frustrating. It might have been made more strongly and clearly in a dramatic show like the old "Defenders" series or even by a panel discussion.

First Major Victory In Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has won his first major congressional victory of 1966 with House approval of funds for his rent subsidy and Teacher Corps programs. But it took some help from Republicans.

A $2.56-billion catch-all appropriation bill passed late Tuesday by the House included money to start the two new "Great Society" projects.

The 269-122 roll-call vote that sent the bill to the Senate after six hours of partisan debate did not reflect the closeness of the battles over the two main issues involved.

Both the rent subsidy program for low-income tenants and the Teachers Corps to help educate children of poor families were approved last year by Congress, but the money to get them started was not provided in the final appropriation bill of 1965.

Republicans who argued that now is not the time to spend federal funds on new domestic programs not related to the war in Viet Nam tried to eliminate money for both the programs.

They centered their fire on the rent subsidy plan designed to promote construction of housing by nonprofit groups for rental to low-income families, with the government paying part of the rent. None of the payments would go to private landlords.

An amendment by Rep. Frank T. Bow of Ohio, top Republican on the Appropriations Committee, would have denied the $12 million to start the rent program — $18 million less than the President requested for use during the remaining months of the fiscal year ending June 30.

Bow's amendment lost by roll call vote of 198 to 190, the margin of victory for the administration being supplied by six Republicans who voted with 192 Democrats.

The $12 million approved could not be spent in communities which don't approve the housing projects, a restriction that could keep the housing out of suburbs that don't want the prospective tenants.

The administration's winning margin to keep in the bill $10 million to get the Teachers Corps program off the ground wasn't as close. An amendment by Rep. Robert B. Duncan, D-Ore., to delete the money lost by standing vote of 156 to 128. It had almost solid Republican backing.

Ring Women Learn Of Home Management

Mrs. F. A. Schutte gave a home management lesson for Ring Women Extension Club March 17 at the home of Mrs. Donald Klein. Mrs. Rance Hoehns was assistant hostess.

Guests were Mrs. Joe Klein, Mrs. Oscar Dove, Mrs. Marvin Rollins, Shirley and Mark. Several members read poems about home management. Plans were made to attend the April 13 meeting at REA Building.

A flower and bulb exchange will be featured at the April 21 meeting at the home of Mrs. George Teter.

Addressed By Magistrate

Judge Betty Pine Lockard, Johnson County magistrate judge, was guest speaker for Tri-County Medical Secretaries and Assistants Society March 21 at Town House Cafe, Warrensburg.

Judge Lockard spoke on law enforcement and mentally ill and senile patients. The role of magistrate court in committing patients to state institutions as explained by her judge.

The April 15-17 state convention in Excelsior Springs was discussed. The next meeting will be April 18.

Sgt. W. A. Dolan will replace Maxey.

Sgt. D. E. Crites will remain assigned at the patrol's training academy in Rolla as lieutenant.

Sgt. W. L. Hutchings will transfer from Troop C, Kirkwood, to lieutenant at Troop G, Willow Springs.

Sgt. G. W. Lampley will become lieutenant with Troop E, Poplar Bluff.

Sgt. C. E. Ray will become lieutenant and remain with Troop B, Macon.

Fourth Ward
Democrats Have Rally

Democrats of the Fourth Ward met Tuesday evening at Horace Mann School in a pre-election rally.

The meeting was opened by Fred Busker who introduced Davey Jones, city chairman, who then took charge.

James "Salty" Schumaker, candidate for mayor, made a short talk and stated, "Our city has been at a standstill too long and it is time we took the necessary step to re-examine our form of government and procedures with one idea in mind and that is, giving the best possible service to the public and going forward as a community."

Schumaker was followed by Judge Lawrence Englund, who is running for re-election. Judge Englund stated that he had tried his best to be honest and fair in his judgments, enjoyed his work as city judge and was seeking re-election. The following candidates were introduced at the meeting: John C. McCloskey, city attorney; Opal Hugelmann, city collector; Mrs. Perry Strode, city treasurer; and John Blue, city assessor.

Remarks were made by the following candidates for alderman: James Askren, First Ward; Walter Jesse, Second Ward; Bob Wells, Third Ward; and Floyd Priddy, Fourth Ward.

Wilbert Askew, called on by the chairman for a few remarks, stated that he felt that Schumaker would do a fine job as mayor and asked that he and the entire Democratic ticket be elected.

James Durlay, speaker of the evening, praised the qualifications of all the Democratic candidates and their desire to serve the city to the best of these qualifications.

"They are qualified and merit the support of every unbiased, thinking resident of this city," continued the speaker.

Durlay observed the opposition party's total failure of leadership and lack of sound financial planning. He noted that the laws of Missouri require the mayor once a year to make a written report to the City Council of a budget showing necessary appropriations to meet all of the wants of the current year and the estimated receipts, and this report to show the financial condition of the city. Further, the Missouri law gives the mayor the right to veto any resolution or order of the Council spending any money.

"And besides this," said Durlay, "the present Republican candidate for mayor is on the Finance Committee of the city council and certainly should have known what was going on." Continuing the speaker stated, "To my knowledge in the four years the opposition party held this position, no such report was ever made by the mayor to the Council and if there has been deficit spending, as reported by the local press, where was the man and party whose duty it was under the law to veto such?"

In conclusion, Durlay stated Sedalia cannot afford to continue under such leadership, but must move forward by the election of the entire Democratic ticket.

One Child Killed,
Two Hurt In Mishap

SILEX, Mo. (AP)—One child was killed and her mother and sister were injured Tuesday when they were thrown from the rear of a tractor into a discing machine on a farm north of Silcox in Lincoln County.

The Highway Patrol said Melinda Trolinger, 2, was killed. Her sister, Lucinda, 4, was cut severely, and their mother, Mary, 25, broke an arm.

Troopers said the three were riding on a tractor driven by Mrs. Trolinger's husband, Lowell. Trolinger told authorities his foot slipped off the clutch at the end of a row throwing the three from the tractor.

Clinton Black, lieutenant governor, introduced his guests, Truman Henry, personnel director of the Missouri Public Co., and Harry Kull, district manager of Missouri Public Service.

Police received reports of a prowler at 1616 East Seventh about 9:25 p.m. Tuesday. No one was located, however.

Roff Grimes, Overland Park, Kan., reported to Sedalia police Wednesday the alleged theft of two sample cases of candy, records and other important papers from his car while it was parked at 32nd and Limit sometime Tuesday night.

Accidents

Lauren Minor, 53, 1625 East 12th, received shoulder and head injuries when a three-wheeled Cushman motor scooter he was driving turned over and slid into a parked car on Prospect near Main early Wednesday afternoon.

Minor, according to Sgt. E. V. Phelps, Sedalia police, received an injury to his left shoulder and a possible head injury. Minor was still unconscious shortly before press time, police said.

According to Phelps, the scooter, belonging to Adco, Inc., was headed north on Prospect and turning into a drive-way leading into the Adco building when the accident occurred.

Minor was taken to the hospital by ambulance and X-rays were being taken about 1:30 p.m. His condition could not be determined.

No one was injured when a parked pickup truck rolled from its parking place into another vehicle in the 1700 block of West Seventh at 2:28 p.m. Tuesday.

According to police, a 1965 Plymouth, driven west on Seventh by Marion V. Keens, 61, 1008 South Massachusetts, was struck in the left side by a 1966 Ford pickup, owned by Thompson-Greer. The front of the truck was damaged.

Herndon, the sheriff's office said, is free on a $100 cash bond. He was taken into custody Tuesday by the sheriff's department.

Fires In City

Grass fire at 2411 South Woodlawn at 5:02 p.m. Tuesday caused a run by the Sedalia Fire Department, which listed burning trash as the cause. No damage was reported. It was the 128th alarm answered this year.

Sedalia firemen were called to extinguish a grass fire in a vacant lot at Tower and Cedar at 3:21 p.m. Tuesday. Witnesses said that several boys throwing matches from a car were the cause of the blaze.

Area Fires

A grass and timber fire burning out of control caused a run by the Pettis County Fire Department at 11:45 a.m. Tuesday to the Herman Reed Farm, Route 2. Cause of the blaze was unknown. No damage was reported. It was the 52nd run made by the department this year.

Early

(Continued from Page One) I don't say it and I agree with what he's saying. I hope we don't have to do it."

In the same frame of mind, Rep. George H. Mahon, D-Tex., chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, said he had hoped a tax increase could be deferred.

In an obvious reference to possible budget cuts, he added: "Let's be sure and see which way the wind is blowing."

Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., a Senate Finance Committee member, also was in a wait-and-see mood.

"I want to see specifically what the President recommends and study the alternatives," Ribicoff said.

Johnson apparently based his indication of increased taxes — made at an impromptu news conference at a reception in the White House state dining room — on the belief of his economic advisers that measures already taken to curb inflationary trends may not prove strong enough.

Looking at Tuesday's Labor Department report that sharply higher food prices had boosted living costs half of 1 per cent last month, Dirksen made no secret of the fact that Republicans believe the President is in an inflationary vise that will squeeze a substantial number of congressional seats out of the hands of Democrats in the fall election.

Republicans
Hold Second
Ward Meet

The Second Ward meeting of the city campaign was held by Republicans at Washington School Tuesday evening. Allen Hawkins, campaign chairman, presided.

Dr. Joseph J. Rodewald, candidate for councilman of the Second Ward, said: "There are indications there is a great need for action among our citizens—not only as a responsibility to themselves but also to each other and to the city government because of changes needed at City Hall. There is awareness of a 'block' created by a 'political machine,' which very obviously dominates decisions made at City Hall, thus crippling city progress and creating an unfavorable 'political climate.' This block must go. Investors are inclined to avoid unfavorable political climates because of the likelihood of entanglements of their business."

"We must get back to city government where the people are represented by persons who will not succumb to some political faction. We must return to government representation where the voice of the people will be heard, where petitions of several thousand names will not be denied an audience, where measures concerning the pocketbook of the people will be subjected to their vote of approval or disapproval, where selfish interests will not drown out the voice of the people crying to be heard."

Ralph Walker, candidate for mayor, spoke briefly stating "he would be on TV Wednesday evening at 6:20 o'clock, and invite all Sedalia to be my audience."

E. W. Schultz, candidate for police judge, was next speaker, referring to "police reports" in the Sedalia Democrat and Capital which give me much concern, because of the lack of support for the Police Department in the office of both the present police judge and the city attorney which we see manifest in the rather impressive weekly number of persons the Police Department arrests and who are turned loose for various stated reasons, by the police judge and the city attorney.

Other candidates introduced were Mrs. Shirley Hawkins, seeking the office of city collector, "who reminded the people of the Second Ward that she grew up in the ward and attended school there. That she was looking forward to their support on election day"; James Schmidt for the office of assessor; Mrs. Delmar T. Bergfelder for city treasurer; Harry B. Young, First Ward; Jerry (Bud) Jones, Third Ward, and George Dugan Jr., Fourth Ward, council candidates, respectively.

Mayor L. L. Studer in his talk said: "I should like to say in all sincerity our party has a fine group of candidates aspiring to serve their city and the people, and I am confident a majority of our citizens are hopeful that they will be elected on April 5 and then take over their duties at City Hall representing all of the people of Sedalia."

"Our candidate for mayor, Ralph Walker, is a fine Christian gentleman with a proven successful business experience. The city of Sedalia is a 32 million dollar corporation and whoever is mayor must have business experience, but this experience will be nullified if the citizens send him down there without a council which is sympathetic to his business judgment. There must be difference of opinion for constructive action but not a continuous united action against all of his judgments."

"We have many boards in Sedalia, namely the hospital, library, park, cemetery and etc. It has been my practice when a vacancy occurs to consult with the other board members as to a desirable replacement, and there have been cases where the council would not approve the appointment for such petty reasons as the nominee did not live in their ward or were not a member of their political party. These people (board members) serve without compensation, therefore, what difference as to their house number so long as they live in Sedalia and are willing to sacrifice their time to serve, or what difference if they are aligned with another faction of their own party."

"I hope this group of candidates who are well known and respected in our community will endeavor to make it abundantly clear to the voters that if elected they will devote their efforts and time to representing all the people and that they will consider their petitions when they speak."

Oscar Lawson, Second Ward committeeman, spoke briefly commending the candidates for their expressions of dedication to the return of representation of the people at City Hall.

port also peppered the North — with 10 million propaganda leaflets dropped just over the 17th Parallel frontier. They warned North Vietnamese troops released massed there that they face destruction if they cross the border.

There have been reports of heavy troop concentrations in that part of the North Vietnamese panhandle, which has been a target for heavy American air attacks since the resumption of the raids two months ago.

Terrorists set off a bomb at a U.S. military billet in Saigon this morning, but inflicted little more than scratches on four or five Americans. The blast, which tore a 20-foot section out of the concrete and brick wall surrounding the downtown villa, came on the anniversary of the explosion at the U.S. Embassy a year ago. Two Americans and 20 Vietnamese were killed in the embassy bombing and 175 persons were wounded.

Different trouble faced a small U.S. Marine billet in Da Nang, scene of recent political unrest following the dismissal of the area's Vietnamese army commander.

Yegorychev proposed that the party's top man be called general secretary — the title used by Stalin.

There was no immediate indication whether the proposal, which was certain to be adopted, would mean any increase in power for the current top man, Leonid I. Brezhnev. His title now is first secretary of the party's Central Committee.

Yegorychev spoke at the beginning of debate today on the policy report with which Brezhnev opened the congress Tuesday.

amendments and took only one — a $10,000 reduction the Department of Corrections asked for the penitentiary appropriation.

One rejected on a lopsided vote would have stripped from the Moberly Training Center for men a $1,900,000 fund for construction of a third dormitory wing.

Rep. Ralph Wigfield, D-Livingson County, said it was wrong to provide what he called plush accommodations for convicts when school classrooms and better facilities for the mentally ill are sorely needed.

Also rejected were efforts to reduce construction money for the University of Missouri.

One was a $700,000 item for completion of the controversial livestock center and the other was an attempt to cut back to $250,000 the university's allotment for major repairs. The governor recommended $250,000 but the House Appropriations committee doubled that figure and it was kept in the bill.

Tuesday night the House Education Committee approved a bill to increase school foundation aid by $10 million, as Gov. Warren E. Hearnes had recommended.

No Closer To Kidnap
Solution

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Friends have started a drive to raise a reward for the return of a teenager whose kidnaper has remained ominously silent.

Police chased down dozens of leads, poured over boxes of photographs and even made two fruitless flying raids in their search for 18-year-old Daniel Goldman.

But apparently they were no closer to a solution than they were Monday morning when a heavy-set middle-aged man in a baseball cap forced him to leave his home at gunpoint.

Friends in the tiny, exclusive community of Surfside on Miami Beach formed a committee to raise $50,000 for information leading to Daniel's safe return. Police approved the idea. They said a reward often produces vital information in major cases.

A prayer service on behalf of the quiet, studious high school senior was set at Temple Raphael, which was built by Daniel's father, Aaron, a wealthy contractor who is also a principal in at least six firms.

One police officer suggested that business dealings might be a factor in the kidnapping. Sgt. Warren Dalrymple said the kidnaper told the father, "You don't remember me, but you cheated me out of some money."

At one point Tuesday, police carried six boxes of what appeared to be business records into the Goldman's luxurious home which is built around an enclosed swimming pool just off Biscayne Bay.

But police, who were talking very little about the case in hopes of protecting Daniel's life from what they described as an extremely dangerous kidnaper, indicated that this line of investigation had not been productive.

"We've got a lot of people working," said Sgt. Larry Vardell, "but we don't have anything more than we did yesterday."

Dozens of officers and FBI agents shuttled back and forth from the house. Twice, flying squads raced to apartments on anonymous tips. One place turned out to be empty. The owner of the other said a crank had been giving his address to police.

Ten policemen spent the night in the Goldman home — twice the number there the first night. Two detectives talked to Phil Switzer, the youth who heard Daniel's calls for help as he was being forced into his car before dawn Monday.

Phil was also the first to reach Daniel's parents who had been tied by sashcord after the kidnaper asked them for $20,000 and they told him they didn't have that much in the house.

The burly gunman then put a $25,000 ransom on their son's head and said it would double to $50,000 if he was not paid by 6 a.m. Tuesday.

Police said the kidnaper did not contact the Goldmans all day Monday and Tuesday so the money had not been paid.

WORCESTER, Mass.—Students and faculty at Classical High School have collected more than 1,000 paperback books for servicemen in Vietnam, but the books may never get there. "Operation Book Lift" began last winter, but there were so many Christmas packages going to Vietnam that it was decided to wait until spring. The school's History Club which organized the collection now finds it will cost from $0 to $120 to ship books. They have been told the armed services can not provide for transportation of the books. They hope some local organization or individual can underwrite the cost. Suspicion Abounds On Island

By ROY ESSOYAN

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — This pretty little Mediterranean island, racked by civil war two years ago and split into two closely guarded hostile camps since then, gives the appearance of living on borrowed time.

Children attend school behind windows piled high with sandbags. A Turkish Cypriot woman hangs out her wash a few feet from an armed Greek Cypriot soldier who eyes her suspiciously.

A child plays in the shadow of a heavily guarded pillbox. A U.N. soldier watches warily from a nearby rooftop. A cow grazes unattended on a narrow strip of no-man's-land, the so-called "Green Line" that cuts across this divided city.

Cyprus borrowed another three months of uneasy peace March 16 when the Security Council extended the U.N. peacekeeping operation here till June.

The Security Council resolution was predicated on the hope that "substantial progress toward a solution" would be achieved within three months.

No one in authority here expects any such progress toward a solution before the new deadline. "Neither the Turkish nor the Greek Cypriots are willing to compromise because neither side is hurting enough," a top Western diplomat observes. "Maybe the only thing that will make them budge is a new explosion of violence."

Both sides agree that withdrawal of the U.N. forces next June 26 as currently scheduled, could provide the spark. U.N. and other diplomats here express the same fear.

More than 5,000 U.N. peacekeeping troops have kept the two sides at bay for two years, patrolling the heavily barricaded boundaries of the Turkish Cypriot enclaves that were carved out of Nicosia and the rest of Cyprus after the last outbreak of violence two years ago.

Archbishop Makarios, president of Cyprus, is insisting on "Enosis" — union with Greece.

The Turkish Cypriots demand partition of the island under a federal system, and recognition of the Turkish minority, one-fifth of the island's population, as an equal partner in government.

They insist on retaining the veto power in government they were granted under a constitution approved in 1960 after agreements were signed by Britain, Greece, Turkey and the Cypriot leaders the preceding year.

Images Of Montez Show In Daughter

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — You gaze into those velvety brown eyes and suddenly you are transported back to another film era, when a sleek beauty in a diaphanous harem gown murmured, "I love you" to Turhan Bey.

The eyes are those of Tina Marquand, who is unmistakably like her mother, the late Maria Montez.

By one of those tricks of fate that delight the hearts of interviewers, Tina was making her first Hollywood movie at Universal. At the time of Tina's birth, her mother was reigning over the lot as queen of the studio's sex-and-sand epics.

Time inexorably changes things. In 1952, Maria Montez died in Paris of a heart attack in a hot tub. Her old studio has long been transformed from a maker of desert fantasies to an entertainment factory operated by MCA.

Now Tina is 20 and appearing with Dean Martin and Alain Delon in "Texas Across the River." She shuns any of the trappings of her mother, who was one of Hollywood's cheesecake stars of the 1940s.

"Pose for bikini shots? Never!" she declared. "It is so ridiculous, going into a studio gallery and posing with the balloons and the false sand and the blue-paper backing. Ridiculous!"

Tina has seen films of her mother in her heyday. Her said appraisal? "She was very beautiful, but very bad as an actress. I don't suppose it was her fault; the films were so ridiculous."

Born in Beverly Hills, Tina left at the age of 3 to live in Paris with her mother and father, Jean Pierre Aumont. After Maria's death, Tina traveled all over the world with him as he appeared in films and on the stage. The exposure convinced her she wanted no part of acting.

Her attitude changed after her marriage to French actor Christian Marquand. She was 17, he was in his mid-30s.

She studied in New York with Stella Adler and Philip Burton, foster father of Richard Burton. Her first role was in "Modesty Blaise," an upcoming film about a female James Bond. Then came a Roger Vadim film in France and "Texas Across the River," in which she plays an Indian girl.

Chualo Loses Fight But Maintains An Old Record

Clay Wins Lop-Sided Heavyweight Encounter

TORONTO (AP)—It was like a fight between a matador and a bull, only the bull didn't have any horns. That was heavyweight champion Cassius Clay's lop-sided victory in 15 rounds over game, iron-jawed George Chuvalo of Canada Tuesday night.

The 14,500 partisan fans—13,900 paid—at Maple Leaf Gardens gave the plucky Canadian champion a roaring ovation for maintaining his record of never having been knocked off his feet although he must have taken at least 1,000 punches on the head from the unbeaten American.

Now the 24-year-old champion hopes to get into the ring within two months, either in Toronto or London, against Henry Cooper, the 31-year-old British ruler from London.

Old 'Erny isn't in gutty George's class when it comes to soaking up punishment but he can hit pretty good. He floored Clay with a left hook before being stopped in the fifth round at London on June 18, 1963. Clay has been dropped only twice in his 5½-year career.

The big drawback with Cooper is that he has a push-button on his chin. He has a 31-11-1 won-lost-draw record, including 21 knockouts. But he has been stopped six times—by Zora Folley, former world champion Ingemar Johansson, Clay, and some characters named Uber Bacilieri, Peter Bates and Joe Bygraves.

"We haven't got anything set yet," said Clay, whose face was virtually unmarked. "But Cooper might be a good one. He knocked me down once."

Arthur Grafton, the attorney for Clay's Louisville sponsoring group said they were considering Cooper and anyone who might be available, including Ernie Terrell. Terrell, the World Boxing Association champion from Chicago, withdrew from his title showdown here with Clay, recognized as champion everywhere but in WBA territory, when his guarantee was slashed.

"Terrell can show up or shut up," said Grafton.

It was Grafton and Edward Jacko Jr., Clay's personal attorney, who said Tuesday that the champion figured to have from 30 to 60 days before his appeal from a 1-A draft classification normally would be heard by the state board in Kentucky. Earlier it was reported the fighter's case would be heard within a few days.

The middle knuckle of Clay's right hand was swollen from the steady stream of punches he fired at Chuvalo's battered but unbowed head. Chuvalo bore nicks over and under both eyes, on his forehead and had a huge lump under his right eye about the size of a lemon.

The officials had the following winning scores for Clay on the five-point scale: Referee Jackie Silvers 73-65, judge Tony Canzano 74-63, and judge Jackie Johnston 74-62. The Associated Press had it 73-62 for Clay and 13-2 in rounds, giving Chuvalo only the second and fourth. By rounds, Silvers had it 12-1 with four even, Canzano had it 12-1 with two even and Johnston had it 13-1 with one even.

After the fourth round it was all Clay with his popping lefts and left-right combinations. Chuvalo battered Clay's ribs and back and admittedly strayed low with some of his blows. Although he constantly stalked the dancing, sidestepping, circling champion the challenger couldn't slow him up. Chuvalo's punches had the effect of a wet noodle.

In the eighth round, by actual count, Clay popped his bull-necked, husky for 148 times with his left hand. In the 11th, when he apparently made his final all-out effort to make good on

SH Gremlins Win First Track Meet

The Sacred Heart Gremlin track team squeaked past Cole Camp's Bluebirds by a half point and outdistanced Leeton by four and one-half points in a triangular meet in Cole Camp Tuesday afternoon.

The Grems accumulated 67 points to Cole Camp's 66½ and Leeton's 62½.

Sacred Heart placed first in the mile run, high hurdles, 880-yard run and mile relay in defeating their opponents in the first meet of the 1966 season. The mile relay team was composed of Tom Logan, Bob Emo, Tim Hogan and Mark Hogan. Logan garnered a blue ribbon in the 880-yard and mile runs, while Larry Burke took first in the high hurdles.

Results of the meet are: Low Hurdles—Garrett, CC; Hogan, SH; Burke, SH; Sublett, CC Brown, SH. 23.6.

High Hurdles—Burke, SH; Sublett, CC; Brown, SH; Wheatley, L; Linville, CC. 18.8.

100-yard dash—Cronhardt, L; Garrett, CC (tie for first); Williams, L; Gross, SH; Hogan, SH; Weising, SH. 11.2.

220-yard dash—Williams, L; Garrett, CC; Gross, SH; Weising, SH; Hall, SH. 24.8.

440-yard dash—White, L; Hogan, SH; Nesbourn, L; Hall, SH; Eichoff, CC. 59.7.

Mile Run—Logan, SH; Emo, SH; Brown, SH; Gilbert, L; Howard, L. 5:07.4.

880-yard relay—Leeton; Cole Camp. 1:47.9. (Sacred Heart disqualified for passing baton out of lane.)

Mile relay—Sacred Heart; Leeton; Cole Camp. 4:03.7.

High jump—Sublett, CC; Kroenke, CC; Cronhardt, L; Stoneking, CC; Linville, CC. 5 feet, 2 inches.

Pole Vault—Wheatley, L; Cronhardt, L; Stoneking, CC; Kroenke, CC; Dunham, SH. 8 feet, 2 inches.

Broad Jump—White, L; Hogan, SH; Bush, CC; Brandt, CC; Williams, L. 17 feet, 4 inches.

Shot put—Sublett, CC; Gerke, L; Wood, CC; Craig, CC; Donnell, CC. 37 feet, 6 inches.

Discus—Donnell, CC; Gerke, L; Fisher, SH; Wood, CC; Gerke, SH. 100 feet, 1 inch.

his ambition to floor Chuvalo, he scored with more than 200 blows.

Chuvalo absorbed them all and kept coming. It looked like he was being paid piece work for the number of shots he could take.

The Gardens said the gross gate was $165,000 and the net $150,000. The ancillary rights, including closed-circuit television, radio broadcasts and television tape shows may bring another $200,000 into the promotion.

It appears to be a financial flop for Main Bout, Inc., which had the ancillary rights.

Thus Clay, on his 50 per cent probably will gross $175,000 and net about $50,000—after paying his backers and his taxes—for a bout that was called a mismatch by most experts and by various boxing organizations.

Chuvalo, on his 20 per cent, may be in for a $70,000 purse, about $45,000 more than he's ever earned for a fight before.

Clay, weighing the heaviest of his career at 214½ pounds, now has a 23-0 record, including 18 knockouts. Chuvalo's record is 34-12-2. He weighed a hefty 216, about seven more than he's scaled for most of his recent fights. In his last fight before Clay, he weighed 206 when he was outpointed in 10 rounds by Argentine Eduardo Corletti in London.

Off his showing against the unknown South American, Chuvalo was made a 7-1 underdog with very little betting reported anywhere.

Executive Claims

Drawing Power Overestimated

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A baseball executive says Milwaukee is overestimating the drawing power of a first-year major league expansion club.

Francis X. Leary, vice president and treasurer of the expansion-born California Angels, says Milwaukee could not expect an attendance of 800,000.

The Angels drew only 630,000 in their first season, 1961, and he implied that's about what Milwaukee might expect.

Leary, a defense witness Tuesday in the Circuit Court trial of Wisconsin's antitrust suit against baseball, said:

"I question whether 800,000 people will come that first year with an expansion club."

The minimum 800,000 annual attendance was included in testimony given earlier in the trial by Alan H. (Bud) Selig, president of Milwaukee Brewers Inc. The organization applied to the National League for a 1966 replacement franchise for the Atlanta-bound Braves but the senior circuit turned down the bid. Club owners said the Brewers lacked adequate capitalization, financing organization and experience.

Leary, assistant treasurer of the Braves in Milwaukee from 1953 through 1960, testified he had met with Selig in Los Angeles last July and had given him information based on the Angels' experience.

Leary testified that no expansion club drew 800,000 in its first year. He said between 600,000 and 700,000 was a likely figure.

The defense offered in evidence Tuesday some 30 exhibits in its efforts to link the Brewers' franchise bid with the antitrust suit brought by the state.

Baseball attorneys claim that the state is not the real party of interest in the suit and that the action is intended to force the National League to grant a franchise in Milwaukee.

The state is asking Judge Elmer W. Roller to order the Braves to return to Milwaukee unless the league grants the city a replacement club. It accuses league members of conspiring to use baseball's monopoly status to boycott the city as a major league site.

Stomper Wins Death Match Here

William Romanoff, also known as "The Stomper," stomped his way to victory over Bob Geigel in their match to a finish at Convention Hall, Tuesday night.

The formerly "much disliked" Stomper quickly became a favorite over Geigel and pleased the crowd as he went on to "pour-it-on" Geigel.

Stomper pinned Geigel for the first fall in 11 minutes and 15 seconds, and after a minute rest, fell victim to Geigel using a choker and press after three minutes and 25 seconds. The third fall was Stomper's in four minutes and 40 seconds after a series of stomps and chops and press.

Then the "death" fall rolled in after three minutes and 40 seconds when Stomper stomped and stomped much to the satisfaction of the thirsty excited ringsiders. When the bell tapped to start the next session, Geigel was unable to get up and the match went to Romanoff.

Ronnie Reed, a Sedalia favorite among the wrestling fans, was the winner of his match over Oki Shikina, taking final two falls of the semi-final event. Shikina won the first pin after using his judo chop and following up with a press in 14 minutes and 30 seconds. It took Reed seven minutes and 20 seconds to win the second fall when he used his reverse shoulder press, then came back to win the final fall in five minutes and 35 seconds with the reverse leg lock.

After 10 minutes and 20 seconds of a special event, The Butcher failed to heed the referee's warning and as a result was disqualified, giving the match to Jerry Kozak.

Bulldog Lee Henning and Tor Kamata went to a 15-minute draw in their one-fall 15-minute time limit match. The time was too short for Henning who was after the Jap, the bell saving Kamata from losing the event.

Promoter Gust Karras, Tuesday night said he is preparing an all-star event for next week announcing the schedule the last of this week. Wrestling fans left the big hall, Tuesday night, well satisfied over refereeing duties this week.

TV Fight Coverage Was a Dud

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Theater-television of Tuesday night's Cassius Clay-George Chuvalo heavyweight title fight proved a resounding financial dud, as expected.

Less than 40 outlets in the United States and Canada carried the closed-circuit telecast of the Toronto bout and attendance was poor.

An Associated Press survey of 22 of the U.S. outlets showed a total attendance of 30,739 of a possible 90,375.

Ten Canadian sites reported 15,600 spectators out of a potential 43,300.

Ticket prices ranged from $1 to $7. Chances are the theater-TV outfit that handled the operation—Main Bout, Inc.—will gross around $110,000 from the telecast. That's a far cry from the millions anticipated and the millions realized from previous closed-circuit fight telecasts.

The fight, which was originally to have been between Clay and Ernie Terrell, was rejected by New York, Chicago and other points before it landed in Toronto. Then Terrell pulled out in a contract dispute.

Initially, the match expected to provide a theater-TV bonanza—perhaps even $3 million. But as the difficulties mounted the prospect of about 230 U.S. and Canadian outlets dwindled radically.

In addition, the American Broadcasting Co. decided not to carry the fight on radio in the United States and the British Broadcasting Co. canceled its $100,000 contract to televise the bout live to the United Kingdom via Early Bird satellite.

The JJ Khoury League was organized Monday at Centerview, and will be composed of small towns in Jackson and Johnson counties. Gordon Robinson, Centerview, was elected president of the league.

According to Khoury circuit director Paul Klover, the new league's plans are to have boys and girls in each age class including the senior groups in both baseball and softball.

To Study Gangland Terrorism

CHICAGO (AP)—Gangland terrorism and mobster control of boxing will be scrutinized in a federal grand jury investigation beginning today.

Government attorneys are expected to delve into the possibility that fights were fixed by syndicated mobsters. They also would like to see several gangland figures land in jail.

The action stems from the ill-fated Cassius Clay-Ernie Terrell heavyweight title bout which never came off.

The proposed bout was tossed out of New York, Chicago and finally Montreal before Terrell pulled out altogether.

The fact that it was tossed out of New York resulted in an alleged gangland attack against Bernard Glickman, who then sought protective custody from the FBI and will be the government's star witness in the grand jury hearing.

Glickman, an associate of Terrell reportedly had been warned by the Chicago mob to stay away from the fighter. But when Terrell went to New York to apply for his license to fight Clay, the New York State Athletic Commission refused the request because of Terrell's association with Glickman.

The commission noted that Glickman was on the same plane to New York as was Terrell.

This reportedly so infuriated Chicago mob terrorist Felix (Milwaukee Phil) Alderisio that Alderisio attacked Glickman and threatened the lives of both Glickman and Terrell.

In the meantime, Glickman went into FBI custody and reports were that he was safely tucked away in St. Louis before returning to Chicago for the grand jury hearing.

Terrell says he never had been threatened and that Glickman never was his fight manager although Glickman did act as booking agent for Terrell's night club act.

Long stated that the Tiger teams have increased the tempo of their workouts since the conference indoor meet two weeks ago. He further stated that he plans to use a larger number of boys in the coming meet.

Final Offer Refused

Costly Holdout Maintains Stand

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Baseball's costliest holdout continued into its 32nd day today after pitchers Sandy Koufax and Don Drysdale rejected what the Los Angeles Dodgers said was their final offer.

General Manager E. J. (Buzzie) Bavasi flew in from Florida via New York to reopen negotiations with his dissident stars and offered them a one-year combined offer of $210,000.

It amounted to a $12,500 increase from his previous offer—$112,500 to 29-game-winner Koufax and $97,500 to 23-game-winner Drysdale.

The players, through their attorney, J. William Hayes, turned it down and were quoted by Bavasi as saying:

"It was simply a matter of economics—not enough money."

The Gold Nugget Twins, who had originally asked for $500,000 apiece on three-year contracts, remained out of touch with the press, which has been their policy to a great extent since they became official holdouts Feb. 27.

"I came to negotiate. That's what they said they wanted. But this must be the end," said Bavasi.

"I think the boys have decided not to play ball this year. This is their privilege and we wish them luck."

Bavasi at first said he would insist on dickering with the players as a twosome, as they had demanded from the outset. But later he said he would talk business with either.

"But my thinking about the offers we have just made would have to be revised—meaning not so much money."

Bavasi, after his rather brief talk with the attorney, called club President Walter O'Malley at the Vero Beach, Fla., training camp. They agreed, he said, that the $210,000 was the highest the club would go.

What do Sandy and Don now want?

"Frankly, I have no idea. All I know is that they wouldn't take what we offered."

The pitchers have signed to play feature roles in a movie which is slated to start filming

Canadiens Can Clinch Hockey Laurels Tonight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Montreal Canadiens can all but clinch the National Hockey League championship tonight when they tangle with the third-place Maple Leafs in Toronto.

A victory over the rugged Leafs would give the Canadiens a four-point edge over the second-place Chicago Black Hawks, with each team having only two games to play.

The Hawks kept alive their slim chances with a 4-2 triumph over Boston Tuesday night to solidify their hold on second place.

Chicago must win its final two games including an important engagement against the Canadiens in Montreal Saturday night and then have the Canadiens lose two of their last three games.

If this were to happen, the teams would finish with identical records of 39-23-8 and a total of 6 points. But the Hawks would be awarded their first NHL championship on the basis of more goals scored if they can retain any part of their 11-goal bulge over the Canadiens.

April 11, the day before the Dodgers open the National League season here.

Manager Walt Alston, trying to fashion another pennant winner in Florida, said: "I'm disappointed. I can't lie about that, but it's no great surprise. I started to give up on them signing two weeks ago."

"I can't be mad at either one of them after all the games they've won for me."

S-C Tigers Baseball Season Set

The Smith-Cotton Tigers open the 1966 baseball season against Da La Salle High School, Kansas City, at 4 p.m. Wednesday at Liberty Park. Smith-Cotton head baseball coach Earl Finley said today.

Stepping right into the 1966 campaign the Tigers meet St. Paul's of Concordia Friday at Liberty Park and then travel to Joplin for a double header on Saturday at 1 p.m.

The Tigers face the difficult task of replacing nine men from last year's team that won the C.M.C. championship and finished play in the state semifinals at St. Louis. Returning regulars from the 1965 squad include Barry Morton in center field; Butch Rozier, who will be at short stop this season; and pitchers Mike Vansell, Steve Lewis and Mike Kraxberger.

Taking over behind the plate will be Ray Murray who will be supported by Larry Neville. At first base Gary Eck leads the candidates. At second base is Russ Quirk who started at that position last season until an injury forced him out of action. Larry Bechtel is the leading third base candidate. Outfielders besides Morton include Steve Morris, Donnie Wright, John Boyd and Bill Estes.

Jim Vinson, Jerry Morris, Terry Arnold and Allen Litz make up the remainder of the Tiger pitching staff.

Dennis Boehne and George Williams are the utility infielders.

Finley stated that the Tigers face a tough campaign against some of the state's outstanding baseball schools, such as Springfield Hillcrest, and Glendale, N. K.C., William Chrisman, Truman, De La Salle, Columbia, Jefferson City, Mexico and Pendergast. Coach Finley feels that this year's squad will settle down after a few games and will be a fine representative of Smith-Cotton High School.

Fish Club Plans Hughesville Meet

The H & H Fish Club will hold their Family Night meeting at the Hughesville High School on Friday, April 1, starting at 7:30 p.m. Fish and chicken will be served.

The program will consist of a panel discussing the Junior College issue, which will be voted on April 5, it being noted the Houstonia and Hughesville areas will be covered by such a higher learning institution. Members of the Sedalia Jaycees and the Pettis-Benton County Citizens Steering Committee for the Passage of the Junior College will discuss the proposal and will take part in a question and answer period following the general discussion.

Track Trips Will Start On Saturday

By BOB GREENE
Associated Press Writer

The annual midwestern track caravan starts Saturday at the Texas Relays. If the Arkansas Relays is a barometer of things to come, Big Eight athletes should dominate the circuit.

Oklahoma State, Kansas State and Missouri were the big winners at Arkansas; but Kansas, Oklahoma and Nebraska are sure to pick up a few gold medals at Texas.

Texas is the first stop on the three-event circuit. The Kansas Relays will be April 21, 22, 23 and the Drake Relays on April 29 and 30.

While Big Eight schools have pretty well held their own at Texas in the past, this year the league seems a sure bet to increase its medal count.

Big Eight entries dominated the Arkansas Relays, capturing 12 gold medals in the 18 events.

Oklahoma State's crack two-mile relay team is aiming for a world record with anchorman Tom Von Ruden, a senior. Last year, Von Ruden, Jim Metcalf, Dave Perry sped the distance in 7:18.3, wiping out the record shared by Oregon State and Villanova.

Two members of the team—Von Ruden and Metcalf—teamed with Arnold Droke and Chris McCubbins to win at Arkansas in 7:38.6. Coach Ralph Higgins, however, still has John Perry around for duty in the two-mile relay.

Perry ran on the victorious OSU sprint medley squad at Arkansas, teaming with Metcalf, Ron Hester and Larry Linn. The winning time was 3:21.1, which broke the old Arkansas record of 3:23.8, set by Southern Illinois in 1963.

The Cowpokes also won the four-mile relay in a comparatively slow time of 17:29.8. But they did beat a strong Kansas State squad.

K-State took the mile relay in a record-equalling time of 3:12.9—and the 880-yard relay.

Kansas suffered a blow when sprinter Bob Hanson, a senior, hurt his right foot. Hanson will undergo an operation during the Easter spring vacation.

"This is a tough blow to us," Timmons said. "Even worse, it's a hard break for Bob."

The operation will probably end Hanson's track career.

John Lawson, Kansas captain and the NCAA cross-country champion, is recovering from a strained knee tendon. It's hoped he'll be ready by Saturday.

Kansas freshman Jim Ryun is also going to the Texas Relays. He will compete in the Jerry Thompson open mile.

Our Bourbon is as old as the Hills.

Back in 1879, William and Scipio Hill, a pair of Kentucky cousins, opened a distillery. They made precious little of their Bourbon, but what they made came up precious good. Rich and full. And so incredibly smooth that the Hill cousins were able to sell their whiskey for three times the going price.

Today, Hill & Hill is still made the same old way. As patiently as the Hill cousins meant it to be.

So be thankful you can get your Bourbon straight from the Hills of Kentucky.

Generous Praise For Canadian

TORONTO (AP) — "I told you he'd be tougher than Sonny Liston, Floyd Patterson or Ernie Terrell. I hit him with seven or eight of my best punches but he didn't go down. If he had fought all his other opponents like he fought me he would have won them all."

Cassius Clay was generous in his praise of George Chuvalo after winning a unanimous decision over the Canadian Tuesday night in a 15-round "heavyweight showdown" match at Maple Leaf Gardens. Clay's world title was not at stake officially because he is not recognized by the World Boxing Association of which Ontario is a member.

"He's a tough body puncher," said Clay of the 7-1 underdog who never has been knocked off his feet in 48 pro fights. "This fight proves I can take a body punch."

The champ, dressed in a tuxedo, met newsmen at the Gardens shortly after the fight. He said he would have stopped the plodding but game Canadian if he had not been forced to interrupt his training while the fight was shifted from city to city and a new opponent was dubbed for his original foe, Terrell, the WBA champ.

"With all the traveling I did, I didn't have a chance to work on the heavy bag. The hardest thing I punched since I beat Patterson was Chuvalo's head."

Chuvalo, who was given no chance to win, said he thought he could have beaten Clay if he had more time to train. The Toronto bully boy had to take the fight on short notice when Terrell pulled out.

"I thought it was a pretty close fight," he said. "He fought a good fight and so did I. I didn't know who won or lost. I thought I won eight rounds."

"With the proper time to train, I feel I could knock him out. I wouldn't say he's great. He's very quick but not an extremely hard puncher. His punches have a lot of snap but he's not a big banger. He didn't hurt me at any time."

Worley New Coach

MANHATTAN (AP) — Bill Worley, an assistant at Texas Tech, has been named to the coaching staff at Kansas State.

Worley's appointment, was announced Tuesday and is effective April 1. He succeeds Dick Towers, who resigned to go to Southern Illinois.

Worley played football at Texas Tech and graduated in 1964. He is 25, married and has a son.

Rain Ends Five Games; Gil Happy

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Rain wiped out five exhibition baseball games Tuesday but Ken McMullen brought a ray of sunshine through the clouds for Washington Manager Gil Hodges.

McMullen pounded two home runs and drove in five runs as the Senators whipped Kansas City 6-4 in a game called after eight innings because of rain.

Elsewhere, Minnesota blanked Los Angeles 2-0 in a rain-shortened, five-inning game. Pittsburgh shaded the Chicago White Sox 6-5. San Francisco downed California 2-1 and Chicago outlasted Cleveland 12-10.

The New York Mets-New York Yankee, Baltimore-Detroit, Boston-Houston, St. Louis-Cincinnati and Atlanta-Philadelphia games all were rained out.

McMullen, who was the Senators' regular third baseman last season after coming over from Los Angeles in the Frank Howard-Claude Osteen deal, continued to flash the muscle that made him a Senator favorite in 1965.

The husky infielder walloped 18 home runs last year, second on the club only to Howard's 21, and drove in 54 runs in 150 games.

Hodges, who had batted him in the No. 2 spot most of last year, dropped him to No. 6 Tuesday, hoping to capitalize on his RBI potential, and the move paid off handsomely.

McMullen connected with one man on in the fourth and then with two on in the eighth as the Senators, who had lost their first nine exhibitions, won their fifth straight.

The output hoisted McMullen's spring figures to six homers and 11 RBIs. He leads the club in both departments.

Ken Harrelson and Dick Green homered for Kansas City. The Twins pushed across two unearned runs to beat the Dodgers in a rematch of last season's World Series opponents.

Harmon Killebrew started the Twins' rally with a fourth-inning single. He moved to second on a wild pitch and then scored on Peeewe Oliver's boot of Earl Battey's bouncer. After Jerry Kindall singled Battey to second, Andy Kosco's pinch double brought him home with the second Minnesota run.

Top Pros Featured In Golf Preliminary

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Today's pro-am preliminary to the $100,000 Greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament featured such top pros as Sam Snead, Doug Sanders and Arnold Palmer.

Prize money for the pro-am totaled $5,000 while the 150 amateurs competed for $2,500 in merchandise.

Fifty professionals teamed with the amateurs at Sedgfield County Club, site of the 29th GGO starting Thursday.

Snead is defending champion and will be shooting for his ninth Greensboro title in this year's tournament.

Palmer, who skipped the Jacksonville Open won by Sanders, will be getting his game in shape for the Augusta Masters beginning a week from Thursday.

Whirlpool Delights Scientists

WASHINGTON (AP) — To the delight of oceanographers, a piece of the Gulf Stream has broken loose from its parent current and is going 'round and 'round 600 miles east of Boston.

The reason the scientists are pleased is this:

The newly discovered eddy — or whirlpool — of warm water, about 50 miles in diameter, is a kind of made-to-order laboratory to help them in complex studies which could some day result in accurate long-range weather forecasts and — who knows? — maybe weather controls.

The elaborately equipped ship Explorer, of the Coast and Geodetic Survey, which has recently been at Norfolk, Va., is due to take to sea again soon to study the eddy in detail. And a special plane from the naval air station at Patuxent, Md., is expected to cooperate. It can spot the eddy by means of an infrared radiation thermometer.

The Gulf Stream is a gigantic current of water which issues from the Gulf of Mexico and proceeds northeastward to a point east of the Grand Banks off Newfoundland. It has a marked effect on the weather, especially the climate of Europe. The weather of that continent is affected, in large part, by conditions in the Atlantic Ocean, while United States weather often bears the label "made in Canada."

Lt. Cmdr. Ray Moses of the Coast and Geodetic Survey, who is coordinator of a Gulf Stream study project now under way, explained how the eddy broke loose.

The Gulf Stream is in some ways like a river in the ocean. And those who remember their elementary geology will recall how rivers, especially those that are in their old age geologically speaking, tend to wander or meander.

Sometimes they curve right back on themselves, and then go on their way, leaving a doughnut-shaped body of water behind, totally separated from the parent stream.

This is what happened recently with the Gulf Stream; it left behind a warm water eddy or meander, for the first time, so far as is known, in at least 10 years.

The eddy is too small to have any appreciable effect, in itself, on the weather. But scientists hope to learn more from it about how warm and cold water mix in the oceans, which largely control the temperature and moisture content of the air.

Finance Division Closes Gray Summit Bank Pending Probe

GRAY SUMMIT, Mo. (AP)—The Bank of Gray Summit has been closed by the State Division of Finance until an investigation can be completed.

C. W. Cully, Missouri finance commissioner, closed the bank Monday and said an audit of the bank's records is being conducted by the state and the state Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

Cully said he closed the 60-year-old bank after the annual state examination of its books found "a significant excess of liabilities over deposits." He said it is too early to estimate the amount of the deficiency.

It will remain closed, he said, until it is either rehabilitated or liquidated.

The bank, with deposits of about $1,800,000, is in a town of 300 persons, 35 miles southwest of St. Louis.

Ecuador Has New Leader In Indaburo

QUITO, Ecuador (AP)—Clemente Yerovi Indaburo, a non-partisan economist, has been named provisional president of Ecuador after student demonstrators, businessmen and labor leaders brought down the military junta.

Yerovi, 62, was appointed Tuesday by the military high command which threw out the three-man junta. The high command said it named Yerovi on the advice of political leaders and fully supported him.

The appointment of a civilian president ended five days of violent anti-junta student demonstrations in which at least seven persons were killed and a business strike in Guayaquil, Ecuador's port and largest city. The students claimed the junta's policies were oppressive. The businessmen opposed new taxes and import restrictions.

The military command said it was dissolving the junta "to avoid chaos and anarchy." There were indications that the military chiefs acted without the junta's knowledge, but junta members had said earlier they would resign if a civilian president could be agreed on.

The whereabouts of the junta members — Rear Adm. Ramon Castro Jijon, Gen. Marcos Gandara and Gen. Cabrera Sevilla — was not immediately known. There were unconfirmed reports that they had fled to Brazil or Peru.

The junta had ruled since the drunkenness of President Carlos Arosemena became a public scandal and the military threw him out on July 11, 1963.

Yerovi was proposed for provisional president by ex-President Galo Plaza Lasso in whose 1948-52 administration he served as minister of agriculture.

During that term in office, Yerovi was given much credit for increasing the country's banana exports. He also served as first president of the National Planning Council and as Ecuador's ambassador to the U.N. Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization in Paris. He also represented his country at the Common Market in Europe.

Yerovi is regarded as a liberal. He has never been a member of any political party and is respected by all political factions for his competence in the economic field.

In Washington, the State Department had no reaction to the junta's ouster and Yerovi's appointment.

Property Dispute Is Settled; Work Will Continue On Dorm

KIRKSVILLE, Mo. (AP) — Settlement of a property dispute Tuesday night will permit building of a women's dormitory by Northeast Missouri State Teachers College.

The college hopes to complete the dorm, designed for 680 students, in time for its 100th anniversary in 1967.

The city administration and college regents reached agreement in secret session. Mayor L. P. Anesi and P. M. Marr of Milan, president of the regents, announced the agreement.

The city will give the college some land it bought with state and federal help in 1952 for a projected extension of Elson Street between U.S. 63 and the square. The city had sought from the college a strip on the west side of Franklin Street so that main thoroughfare can be widened.

The Elstron Street project was never completed.

Fashions Come Under Criticism

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — Today's "mod, little-girl and op-art" looks leave a prize-winning women's fashion editor cold. She confessed to fellow editors Tuesday night.

"The only thing high about high fashion today is the price and the hemline," Miss Annie Lee Singletary told a fashion editors workshop at the University of Missouri.

Miss Singletary, fashion editor of the Twin City Sentinel and Winston-Salem (N.C.) Journal, is winner of the workshop's $1,500 competition fashion award.

"The stringbean look is all the rage in New York now," Miss Singletary said, "but it's about time someone started considering us butterbeans."

She complained that few size 12s or 14s are found on clothing store racks nowadays.

"And when you do find them, they're a disgrace," she said. "Fashion is not just for wom-

Districts To Merge

GALT, Mo. (AP)—A merger of the Galt R-School District in Grundy County with the adjoining Humphreys R-4 school District in Sullivan County was favored Tuesday by residents of the two districts. The vote was 514-209. State school authorities approved the proposal March 4.

en under 20, with a 20-inch waist line and 20-20 vision. Fashion should be for all women, because all women are interested in it. But for at least three fourths of the women in America the state of fashion is in a bad way."

She listed four defaulters of good fashion:

"1. Too much publicity to way-out fashions; 2. Men designers who hate women 3. The youth kick 4. An all too-complaint press. We should call 'em as we see 'em."

"We have a responsibility to be honest. It is the job of the fashion editor to relate fashion to the people and make them realize that some of the editors of the top fashion magazines wouldn't be caught dead in what they the designers put out."

Emulation By Mothers Under Fire

CHICAGO (AP) — American mothers should stop trying to look like their daughters, says a couturier who is aghast at the prospect that old knees might follow young knees into the open this spring.

"American women are going to make themselves look ugly," said Walter Holmes, 33, "and the designers will get all the blame."

The "knees out" look is strictly "for the young, for the rebel," said Holmes, who described himself in an interview as a designer for mature women.

Holmes' dresses hit midknee. He approves of the knee look for women 30 and younger.

"Youth can wear something an adult can't," he said. "So, marvelous! Let them have their way. Let them have a ball with it. But for God's sake, don't compete with them."

What if mother insists on copying daughter's knee look? "First thing, it would go out," Holmes said. "Youth would avoid it like the plague. And then women would wonder what happened to this year's old fashion."

"There is nothing quite so unfortunate as a woman who tries to look like her daughter."

English women, Holmes says, differ from American women in this respect.

"English women may look at girls youthfully dressed and say: 'Oh, you do look adorable,' or, 'You look ridiculous,' or, 'When I was young, . . . But they would never try to emulate youth," he said.

"There's a fear in America that age is a deadly sickness, instead of a charming attribute."

The English-born Chicago designer, whose personal departure from the norm is slightly long hair and sideburns, believes the older woman has an elegance, "even a sexiness," all her own, and she kills it trying to look 21.

And, Holmes said, "an elegant woman is not going to hoist her skirts three inches above her knees."

Three Big Questions Are Posed

EXCELSIOR SPRINGS, Mo. (AP) — A high Federal education official said today one of the major issues facing vocational educators, especially those in large, urban areas, is exactly how, when and where students should get their occupational training in the education process.

Dr. Walter M. Arnold, assistant U.S. Commissioner for Vocational and Technical Education, said it is now possible to identify a developing issue among administrators as to whether any vocational education should be in high school at all.

Arnold, however, in a speech at a regional meeting of state and local vocational education administrators, said there is a preponderance of evidence of a critical need for vocational education in high school, both now and in the foreseeable future.

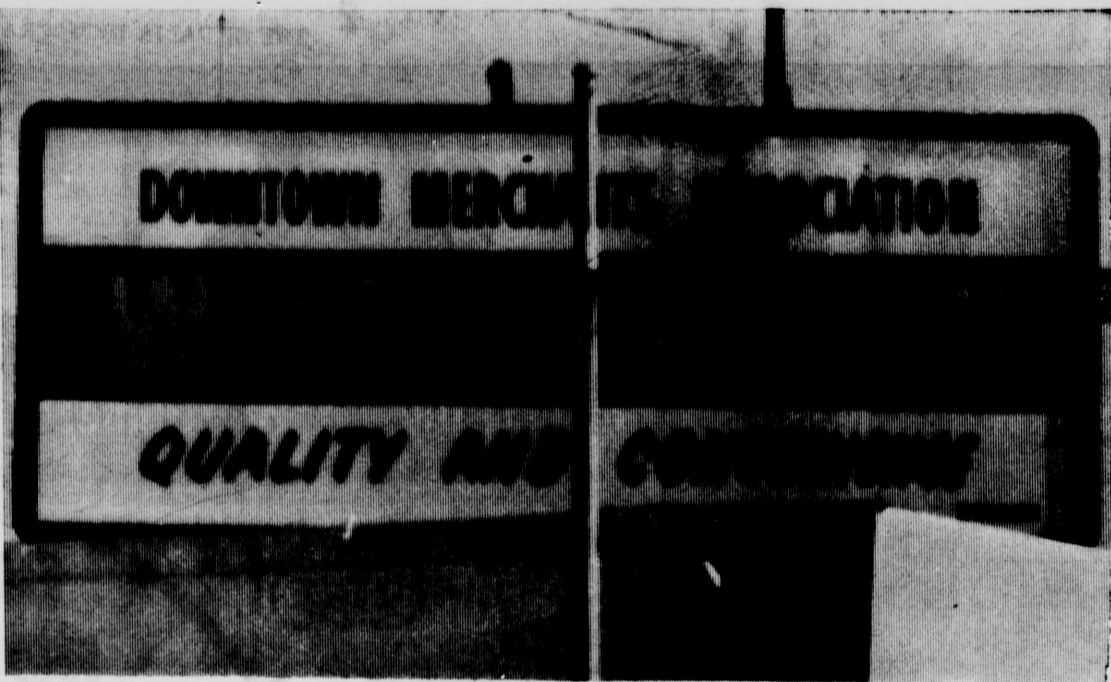

Under discussion at the three-day regional meeting are issues that have developed since the Vocational Education Act of 1963 went into effect about a year and a half ago. States included in the meeting of Region VI vocational educational personnel are Missouri, Kansas, Iowa, Minnesota, Nebraska, North and South Dakota.

Northside Group Endorses Junior College Issue

The Northside Citizens organization met at the Quinn Chapel Friday night and discussed the Junior College proposal. Following the discussion, the group officially endorsed the issue and urged members to work towards getting out the vote on April 5.

Herbert Jones served as moderator at the meeting. Jones is the co-chairman of a committee which was instituted to inform the public about the values of a Junior College for Pettis and Benton Counties. Mrs. Alma Beaver is the other co-chairman. Mrs. Ella Virgil is chairman of the telephone committee, while Mr. Oscar Lawson, president of the Northside Citizens, is the coordinator and a member of the Pettis-Benton County steering committee for the passage of the Junior College proposal.

Appearing on the panel with Mr. Jones were Bill Hopkins, member of the Citizens Committee for the Passage of the Junior College District issue;

Pendergast Dies Monday At His Home

KANSAS CITY (AP) — James M. Pendergast, 70, the man who pushed Harry S. Truman into the big-time political arena, died Monday night at his home. He had been ill with cancer many months.

A nephew of the late boss Tom Pendergast, who dominated Kansas City politics in the 1920s and 1930s, James Pendergast inherited the political mantle after Tom's conviction for income tax evasion.

But Jim Pendergast preferred to practice law, and the political machine split into several factions.

He was a war-time buddy of Harry S. Truman and they were life-time friends.

After World War I, when Truman was thinking about running for county collector, Jim Pendergast talked his Uncle Tom into supporting Truman for the U.S. Senate.

Truman was elected, and moved on up to the vice presidency and presidency.

Jim Pendergast never claimed any personal credit. He always said Truman would have made it anyway with no help from him.

Pendergast continued as president of the Jackson Democratic Club; attended national Democratic conventions, usually as a full delegate, and held a post on the state Democratic committee. He gave up that post when health began to fail.

His widow and two daughters survive.

His father, Theodore McFeders, resides in Kansas City.

Marine Private Dennis William Brand, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Brand of Route 5, Sedalia, has completed combat training at Camp Pendleton, Calif.

The 4-week course included 200 hours of instruction under simulated combat conditions, covering squad tactics, guerrilla warfare, day and night combat, patrolling and use of infantry weapons.

His next step is four weeks of basic specialist training in his military occupational field.

Airman Richard P. Robertson, the son of Mrs. Ruby P.

Esparza, 509 Poplar Drive, Windsor, Mo., has been selected for training at Sheppard AFB, Tex., as an Air Force aircraft maintenance specialist.

The airman, a 1964 graduate of Clinton, Mo. Senior High School, recently completed basic training at Lackland AFB, Tex.

World News In Brief

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
PARIS (AP)—Dr. Martin Luther King said Monday night that not a single major city in the Southern United States still attempts to enforce racial discrimination as a public policy.

But the civil rights battle is far from complete, King told a near-capacity crowd of about 4,500 at the Paris Sports Palace. "Now the challenge to the non-violent movement and to democracy is to end the forces which continue to exploit Negroes economically," he said.

King spoke at a civil rights benefit performance sponsored by a committee of Americans in Paris. Singer Harry Belafonte was the main attraction.

ROME (AP) — Interior Minister Emilio Taviani says the Italian government's three-year-old campaign against the Sicilian Mafia has resulted in the arrest of 582 persons suspected of major crimes and court proceedings to banish 846 suspected members of the criminal secret society.

The Mafia, Taviani told the Chamber of Deputies Monday night, "is being uprooted with method and constancy without any truce."

The minister said there had been a marked decrease in homicides, extortions and kidnappings in Sicily last year.

TOKYO (AP) — The Japanese government refused today to permit the entry into Japan of a Communist Chinese good-will delegation invited by the Socialist party.

Chief Cabinet Secretary Tomisaburo Hashimoto told a news conference the government judged that the delegation's visit would harm Japan's interest. He said the delegation's political talks with the Japanese socialists would also lead to an interference in Japan's internal affairs.

The Socialist party is Prime Minister Eisaku Sato's major political opposition.

New Withholding Rate May Eliminate Estimates

The Internal Revenue Service has advised employees who file declarations of estimated tax that the new tax withholding system may eliminate the need to file an estimate for 1966. For those who still must file, the estimated tax payment required may be reduced.

Estimated tax declarations are generally required to be filed only when the estimated tax liability for the year exceeds income tax withheld by $40 or more.

The new graduated withholding rates, signed into law on March 15, range from 14 to 30 per cent in separate rate schedules, for single persons and married persons.

The new rates apply to all paychecks received on or after May 1, 1966. This means that tax will have been withheld at the old rates for the first four months of this year and will be withheld at the new rates for the balance of 1966.

Single employees who earn more than $5,000 a year and married persons who earn over $10,000 will be particularly affected by the change in rates.

These are employees who normally would not have enough tax withheld under the old rates to cover their tax liability at the end of the year. Under the new system, tax withheld will be more in line with their tax liability.

Document 5642, a fact sheet explaining the new withholding system, will be helpful in figuring estimated tax the IRS said. The fact sheet will be furnished in bulk to employers by early April. They will in turn distribute them to their employees. The fact sheet will also be available at IRS offices at that time.

The fact sheet contains tables which show the amount of tax withheld on wages up to $260 a week, under both the old and new withholding systems. It shows, for example, that a married man with a wife and two children who earns $200 a week

Named to Dean's List

Miss Kathy Gibson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William K. Gibson, 210 Driftwood, is listed for the third consecutive semester on the dean's list for the college of arts and sciences of St. Louis University. A political science major, she is also active in many extra curricular activities on campus.

She would have an additional withholding of $2.40.

IRS suggested that those who have already filed estimated for 1966 and want to amend them should wait and make the change when the June 15th installment is due. The reverse side of the bill for the June 15th installment can be used to amend the estimate.

S-C Students Compete In CMS Contest

Many of Mrs. Carl Schrader's Smith-Cotton High School music students will be off to Warrensburg this Saturday to take part in the district music contest, for which they have been preparing diligently these past several weeks. Mrs. Schrader stated that those students receiving excellent ratings at Warrensburg will advance to the state contest to be held in Columbia on April 30.

Recently at the invitational contest at Marshall, the S-C music department received two "one plus" ratings, and twelve "one" (excellent) ratings in the instrumental division.

ratings were Kenny Fine, trumpet solo, and Dennis Boehne, Victor Stuart and Larry Nuzum, trumpet trio.

"One" ratings were received by Cynthia Stauffacher, string bass solo; Mel Baker, George Cain, Carol Webb, and Kathy Lewis, drum ensemble; Larry Nuzum, trumpet solo; Rick Huddleston, trumpet solo; Victor Stuart, trumpet solo; Jane Bennett, flute solo; Pat Stocker, bassoon solo; Jane Bennett, Marjorie Thomas, and Lu Ann Cain, flute trio; Kathy Beyer, bass clarinet solo; and Ruth Cheffey, clarinet solo.

Sylvia Klein, violin solo, and Ruth Cheffey, Lloyd Knox, and

"Two" ratings were received by David Turner, saxophone solo ("two plus"); Gary Siefert, Gary Jones, Mike Farley, and David Turner, saxophone quartet; John Hillme, Janet Reyburn, Carol Webb, and Sylvia Klein, string quartet; John Hillme, viola solo; Carolyn Bergman, violin solo; Nancy Atkins, violin solo; Ann Gouge, flute solo; and David Harms, clarinet solo.

Eleven piano solos were entered. Ten of the entries received "one" ratings — Teresa Preuitt, Linda Wright, John Hillme, Ruth Cheffey, Marjorie Thomas, Rick Huddleston, Janet Reyburn, Kristy Blum, Pat Stocker, and Nancy Atkins. Cathy Anderson received a "two" rating.

In the vocal division three groups and five soloists received "one" ratings. These were the Madrigal Singers; a mixed quartet composed of Janet Reyburn, Janice Rundlett, Jack Herndon and Bud Clark "one minus" a girls sextet composed of Nancy Gray, Meladee Herndon, Ellen Cromley, Pam Mark, Kathy Wallace and Cathy Anderson; Michelle Ferrari; Nancy Gray; Pam Mark; Jack Herndon and Bud Clark.

"Two" ratings were received by Meladee Herndon, Larry Nuzum (two plus); and Norman Hopkins (two plus).

Ownership Of Site For Dorm Questioned

KIRKSVILLE, Mo. (AP) — Northeast Missouri State College had hoped to complete a new dormitory for 680 girl students by the time of the school's 100th anniversary in 1967.

Plans were completed and construction was to start last week when architects and engineers found that part of the campus site actually belonged to the city of Kirksville.

The project would be delayed if the city doesn't yield its domain of the property.

Pointers for Speed

Common Errors Slowing Processing of Tax Returns

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—Common errors in filing Federal tax returns complicate the processing of taxpayers' refunds, said E. O. Bookwalter, district director of Internal Revenue in Missouri.

Simple errors on returns delay refunds and cause taxpayers trouble. Bookwalter suggests this simple checklist:

1. Check arithmetic.
2. Attach all Forms W-2. Refunds cannot be processed nor can credit be given for taxes withheld, unless the required Forms W-2 are filed with the return. If W-2 forms are not attached, a statement explaining the reasons should be included with the return.
3. Sign your return. (Both husband and wife should sign a joint return.)
4. Print or type name and address, and write figures plainly. Be sure to include your zip code. Illegible names or addresses on returns cause many refund checks to be returned as undeliverable. Avoid this by printing or typing your name and address carefully at the top of the return, including your Social Security number.

5. Use correct tax table.
6. Total your deductions if you itemize on page 2.
7. List your Social Security number correctly. (Both husband's and wife's number should be reported on joint return.)

You can save our government as well as yourself valuable time and money by carefully checking your 1965 tax return before you mail it.

Mr. Bookwalter also stated that thousands of tax payments are received each year by the Internal Revenue Service from Missouri taxpayers that cannot be credited to the proper account. Such payments are placed in a special account until they are properly identified. This takes time and requires additional clerical help which could be used to process refund returns.

Taxpayers sending in checks or money orders in payment of taxes should attach the bill or notice to their remittance. If there is no bill or notice, a note should be enclosed stating what the payment is for, the year of the tax, and the type of tax owed. Be sure to include your name, address and Social Security number.

Mr. Bookwalter had another word of advice: keep your money order stub or cancelled check in case you are requested to verify any tax payments.

Linda Smith Feted At Birthday Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. James L. Smith, Clarksburg, entertained at dinner March 20, honoring their daughter, Linda, on her 18th birthday.

Guests were Miss Smith's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Fisher, High Point, and Kenny Bierri, Jamestown. Miss Smith's birthday was March 18.

GEMS Come in Various Versions

Annular Jet Air Cushion Craft—Internal lifting propellers or ducted fans, with air stream directed inward through slots around the rim of the vessel, create cushion of air between hull and water. After-deck propellers supply power.

Ram Wing/Annular Jet Craft—Air cushion comes part from lift fans and part from the aerodynamic hull design as the craft moves at high speeds. It can hover and has limited capabilities as an amphibian.

A new wrinkle in marine transportation has been popping up all over the map in the United States and abroad. Various called ground effect machines (GEMS), surface effect ships, air cushion vehicles and hovercraft, the vessels have in common the capability of achieving high speeds by riding on air which reduces water friction and drag. Sketched here, with their technical names, are several of the design concepts developed for the new sea-air craft.

Air Lubricated Hull Craft—Conventional marine propellers drive this craft, which does not rise out of the water on a cushion but rides on a layer of air between the hull and the surface, created by centrifugal blowers.

Captured Air Bubble Craft—This design "captures" lift air. Side walls extending into the water and free-swinging flaps at front and rear retain a pressurized air bubble beneath the hull. After-deck propellers supply power.

Tandem Wing Aircraft in Ground Effect—Similar in design to a seaplane, this version achieves lift from huge tandem wings but does not actually fly. It achieves lift force by skimming close to the water surface.

Going On Age Six

New Challenges, Programs Facing The Peace Corps

EDITOR'S NOTE — The Peace Corps is going on six and, with a new director, faces new challenges and programs.

By W. B. RAGSDALE JR.
WASHINGTON (AP) — "My problem is that I'm 23 years old and I've already had the experience of a lifetime."

The Peace Corps, as it enters its sixth year, is in much the same situation as the Peace Corps volunteer who said this.

ABC Ushers In Three New Shows

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — ABC was a busy network Monday, ushering in three new programs.

"The Avengers," a British-made series that reputedly is a smash overseas, contained a bit of everything from comedy to science fiction.

The leading character is a cool, elegant type of Englishman who affects Edwardian jackets with velvet collars, a bowler hat and an umbrella with a concealed camera. His beautiful female assistant goes in for leather slacks and jackets and is a karate expert. It's sort of like Sherlock Holmes with Honey West in tow.

Monday night this pair was mixed up in multiple murders committed by a busy robot which had been programmed by a mad scientist to kill.

The anti-hero and anti-heroine were properly casual about everything, including the wind-up which was a silly grotesque fight between two killer robots. It was an hour of nonsense, not done very well, and it comes along pretty late in our cycle of tongue-in-cheek super-spy, super-agent series.

In the afternoon there was "Confidential for Women," which, as the title suggests, is a variation of the usual soap opera formula—and a pretty sticky one at that.

It is dedicated to the exploration of emotional problems, but differs from the other daytime series in that each emotional problem will be explored in five programs a week. Next week they will tackle a new problem with new actors.

James Daly and Neva Patterson, two good performers, are mixed in this series which seems certain to concentrate on human misery.

"Arlene Dahl's Beauty Spot," the third arrival, comes and goes so fast in the late afternoon that it is easy to miss. It lasts for five minutes and what program there is comes sandwiched between the opening and closing commercials for a hair dye. By a strange coincidence, Miss Dahl's first beauty lesson was a demonstration on how to brush one's hair.

ral village in Colombia, feeling that while he had helped make the world a little better, he was about to embark on an uncertain future.

After supervising its creation and running the Peace Corps for the first five years, Sargent Shriver has stepped out to devote full time to President Johnson's "war on poverty."

Jack Hood Vaughn has replaced Shriver at a time when the Peace Corps is planning: (1) new training programs, (2) new overseas programs, including sending volunteers behind the Iron Curtain into Eastern Europe, and (3) a reverse Peace Corps which could bring thousands of foreign youths to serve in this country.

And there is a continual ferment among the volunteers, encouraged by Peace Corps leaders. Possibly it is best typified by a letter from a volunteer in Iran.

It said, in part: "There is the distinct possibility of a preoccupation with a sentimental mishmash of success anecdotes. Why? Because we are being enslaved by our dangerously misleading public image. We are trying to keep the original glamor untarnished (a glamor that never really was, ironically) by demonstrating expansion and success — yet it is these two preoccupations that may ruin us."

"Our American public... can no longer be mesmerized by the image of photogenic young dynamos surrounded by smiling natives. Likewise, we must abandon that galling bit of naïveté, the idea of young men and women far-a-field, erecting gleaming structures and passing on the torch of knowledge to eager foreign populations. Most important, we must be patient with the inconclusive and intangible type of efforts that volunteers are often engaged in."

Looking back on his Peace Corps days, Shriver has said: "We proved that the common man can play a role in foreign policy. This was the biggest thing the Peace Corps has done."

It was so greatly admired in this area that 49 other nations now have set up service organizations, either for domestic or foreign work, similar to the Peace Corps.

Also, Shriver said, "We reassured America about her own people. You remember that in 1957-59 there were articles and books about the softness of American youth. People still remembered the defections in Korea. We re-established our faith in ourselves, proved Americans can measure up in tough times, live under crude conditions, that they are resourceful."

Finally, Shriver said, the Peace Corps turned the thoughts of many American youths for the first time to public service, teaching, social

Biblical Women Discussed For Tipton Women

Women of the Bible were discussed by Mrs. O. J. Stratman for Tipton Women's Club March 17 at Tipton City Hall. She also talked of the personalities and activities of Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson and Mrs. Indira Gandhi.

Mrs. J. F. Potts, Mrs. Howard Barker and Mrs. Fraser McVean were selected to serve on the nominating committee.

A song was sung by Mrs. O. W. Kinneer, accompanied at the piano by William Dawson, the latter a guest.

Cake was served to 17 members, Mrs. Dawson and Mrs. Leona Hurt, also guests by hostesses, Mrs. E. C. Byrd, Mrs. Olive Ashurst, Mrs. James Lachner, Mrs. Clarie Ferguson and Mrs. A. K. Alexander.

A St. Patrick's Day theme was used for refreshments and tea table appointments, service jobs and foreign service. Vaughn, his successor, is a tough, 45-year-old veteran of the foreign aid program and the Peace Corps.

Vaughn spent a decade with the U.S. Information Agency and the foreign aid program. As Peace Corps Latin-American regional director, Vaughn developed most of the programs in that area. In March 1964, after the riots in Panama, President Johnson tapped him as U.S. ambassador to Panama.

Within 11 months, Johnson elevated Vaughn to assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs and coordinator of the Alliance for Progress. It was this job he left to return to the Peace Corps.

Vaughn, who was a professional boxer in his youth, is red-haired and sports a reddish mustache. He is quiet, soft-spoken and has a sense of humor.

There are some 6,000 returned volunteers in the United States. They are just beginning to have an impact that will grow as the alumni ranks swell to 50,000 by 1970 and 200,000 by 1980.

The first reaction of the returned volunteer often is frustration. Warren Wiggins, deputy, puts it this way: "They've been important people in the lives of their villages... They want a better, more important job than they have."

Although most already are college graduates, 40 per cent of returned volunteers go back to college, usually because their life goal has changed and they need to prepare for a new field. Another 40 per cent enter some type of service career.

Shriver's policy of "in, up and out" for the Washington staff already has resulted in much government infiltration by the Peace Corps.

As a result of Shriver's policy, former Peace Corps staffers now are ambassadors, U.S.I.A. officials, Labor Department officials and hold down dozens of top jobs in Washington.

Shriver insisted at its founding that no staff member ever should make a career of the Peace Corps. At his urging, Congress created Foreign Service status for staffers, with a proviso that they can remain in the Peace Corps no longer than five years.

New Light Machine Gun Under Test

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Marine Corps is testing in Viet Nam a machine gun so light it can be fired from any position and can be fitted with a bayonet for hand-to-hand fighting.

This weapon, generally fired from a tripod — a two-legged mount, is about half as heavy as most machine guns in its class. Its ammunition is so much lighter that its crew can carry about three times as many rounds.

The machine gun is a member of the Stoner 63 small-arms family. This is a novel system in which six different guns can be fashioned from one basic component by interchanging parts.

Eight of the belt-fed Stoner light machine guns are being evaluated by the Marines in the Viet Nam war. Marine sources said today. The testing began last month and will continue for an indefinite period.

None of the other five forms of the Stoner system are being tried out at this time. The five are an assault rifle, a carbine, a light machine gun using a 30-pound magazine, a medium machine gun on a rather heavy tripod, and a fixed machine gun designed to be mounted on tanks, trucks, helicopters and other vehicles.

The Stoner system is one of those being studied by the Army which is taking a long look at the entire spectrum of small weapons. Out of that study may come a new standardized infantry-type weapon for U.S. ground forces, both Army and Marine.

Gen. Wallace M. Greene, Marine Corps commandant, is an admirer of the Stoner system.

The Stoner machine gun, like its other five cousins in the system, fires the 5.56-millimeter (223-caliber) bullet which also is used by the lightweight M16 rifle now being introduced into Viet Nam in considerable numbers as well as for South Vietnamese and South Korean soldiers.

Like the M16, the Stoner features high muzzle velocity which heightens its killing power at short range.

The Stoner's features, its backers say, are accuracy, reliability, ruggedness and ease of maintenance in the field — all, together with light weight, desirable in the kind of fighting being waged in Viet Nam.

Two New Vehicles Under Study

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (AP)—A walking truck and a striding steel skeleton may help man explore the moon or underspace and carry heavy loads across rough, trackless ground on earth.

The principles involved could well be adapted to extraterrestrial exploration, such as on the moon, Mosher said in an interview.

The vehicles will be powered by internal combustion engines and will have self-regulating systems of hydraulics, similar to your automobile's power steering.

Using the power of the operator's own arms and legs, amplified by the machine, the truck or steel man will plod through swamps, up and down steep embankments, and carry heavy burdens up mountains. Or the skeleton may pull saplings up by their roots.

"The machines' arms and legs will mimic essential movements of the easily trained man in puppet-like fashion," Mosher explained.

The operator will feel only a small proportion of the force exerted. If an object to be lifted weighs 500 pounds, the man could adjust the force ratio so that he would feel the weight of only 50 pounds.

The 500-pound steel skeleton, called Hardi-man — its official name is Powered Exo-skeleton — will be five feet tall and the

Guest of Mayor

BOSTON (AP)—Fifteen Boston youngsters will be the guests of the mayor of Athens in Greece this summer.

Mayor George Pityas, in Boston for Greece Independence day celebrations, made the invitation "to establish a brotherhood between the two cities."

An orientation meeting and banquet for the group was held here at the Holiday Inn. The group which is traveling by chartered bus will return April 3.

The program is designed to help the volunteer 4-H leaders gain broader understanding of young people, Ausherman said. Citizenship training is included in the program.

4-H Leaders To Forum In Washington

COLUMBIA, Mo. — Thirty-four adult 4-H leaders from across the state are attending the National 4-H Leaders Forum, in Washington, D. C., according to Arthur Ausherman, extension youth specialist at the University of Missouri.

An orientation meeting and banquet for the group was held here at the Holiday Inn. The group which is traveling by chartered bus will return April 3.

The program is designed to help the volunteer 4-H leaders gain broader understanding of young people, Ausherman said. Citizenship training is included in the program.

The leader forum is conducted together with volunteer leaders from other states. This way, they can exchange ideas with other leaders, he added.

Field trips will be made to Capitol Hill, the supreme library of congress, memorials, and other points of interest.

On the way to Washington, the group will stop in Richmond, Ind.; Brezewood, Pa.; Gettysburg, Pa.; and Mt. Vernon, Va. On the return trip they will stop at Springfield, Ohio.

The 4-H leaders going and the counties they represent are: Adams, Mrs. Robert Lowe, Greenport; Barry, Mrs. Gene Hudson, Jenkins; Benton, Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Martin, Fairfield; Boone, Mr. Eddie C. Lind, Columbia; and Mrs. James E. Grant, Columbia; Buchanan, Mrs. Franklin Whitson, St. Joseph.

Clinton, Mrs. Joe Simpson, Gower; Cole, Mrs. Tom Loethen, St. Thomas; and Mrs. James DeLong, Jefferson City; DeKalb, Mrs. Samuel Bray, Cameron; Franklin, Mrs. Raymond Heller, Sr., New Haven; Gasconade, Mrs. Wilson Nance, Owensville; Greene, Mr. and Mrs. B. J. McNabb, Springfield.

Laclede, Mrs. Bill Lualien, Conway; and Mrs. James Collier, Lebanon; Lincoln, Mrs. Gene Deteri, Moscow Mills; Livingston, Mrs. Vincent Beaver, Hale; and Mrs. W. J. Thomas, Chula; Pettis, Mrs. John

Jones, LaMonte, and Mrs. Cloyce Wilson, Sedalia.

Platte, Mrs. Cleo Johnson, Edgerton; and Mrs. Joseph H. Nuckles, Kansas City; Putnam, Mrs. Bryce Whitacre, Lucerne; Ray, Mrs. Ray I. Wilson, Hardin; Saline, Mrs. Elsie M. Werneke, Sweet Springs; and Mrs. C. T. Keim, Marshall.

Morgan County Extension Clubs Study the Flag

The first regular meeting of Home Economics Extension Club Council was held at California Methodist Church March 18, with Mrs. Loy Allee presiding. The program consisted of a demonstration on "The Etiquette of the Stars and Stripes," how to display and respect the flag, by Postmaster Lawrence Hett, California.

The council has set a goal this year for each club to hold a program on citizenship or a study about the flag. The council citizenship committee also plans to provide a flag for the Related Agencies Building.

The Civil Rights Act was explained by William D. Riley, Montauk county extension director. The planning committee for the businessmen's luncheon announced the selected date of May 17, with county businessmen as guests. The council has also made plans to conduct a tour of Hannibal and surrounding area; to hold a home economic achievement day and a career day tea. A committee was named to review the council constitution and make revision suggestions.

NBC Locks Up Season's TV Schedule

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—What will the next television season bring?
According to an NBC executive, the outlook is for less far-out comedy, status quo in Westerns, a slight increase in spies, and bountiful specials.
The spokesman is Grant Tinker, West Coast vice president for programming, an amiable chap without the usual close-to-the-vest attitude of network veeeps.

He speaks his mind, as in his observation about canned vs. spontaneous television:
"I think we have gone about as far as we can go—or at least we have reached the peak—of filmed television. I believe the time has arrived for television to begin to deliver some of the promise it demonstrated in its earlier days.
"It's time for television to come up with some of the things that are unique to the medium—programs like 'Person to Person'—rather than things that people out there who want something more from television than normal entertainment."

Sad to say, television will not reflect this attitude in the 1966-67 season. NBC is the first network to lock up its schedule, and it appears to be offering more of the same. But NBC generally is admitted to present a wider variety of programming than its sister networks.
Tinker's own favorites among the new shows: "The Hero," misadventures of a television cowboy star (Richard Mulligan) who is "all-thumbs" at home; "Hey, Landlord," Will Hutchins and Sandy Baron in a comedy centered in a New York brownstone apartment building; a half-hour musical starring Rog-

Smithton Garden Club Hears Of Birds In March

Mrs. O. F. Richardson, head librarian at Boonslick Regional Library, reviewed a book on birds for Smithton Garden Club March 17 at the home of Mrs. Audrey Neumeier.
Other guests were Mrs. Jim Lacey, Mrs. Howard Hall and Mrs. William Ratje. Mrs. Neumeier was assisted by Mrs. Ferman Muschany in serving refreshments to guests and 11 members.
Miss Laura Kruse, president, opened the meeting with Garden Club Collect.
Bird arrangements were displayed by Mrs. Joe Verts, Mrs. Neumeier, Mrs. Vest Streit and Mrs. Verner Carpenter.
Decorated Easter eggs were shown by Mrs. William Ratje.

Mrs. Carpenter, Mrs. Neumeier, Mrs. August Oehrke, Mrs. Verts and Miss Kruse. The eggs were later taken to shut-ins.
Garden Club year books, done in green with white outline maps of Missouri, were made by Mrs. Verts.
Mrs. F. L. Bodenhamer will speak about gardens and sprays and spring flowers will be exhibited at the April meeting at the home of Mrs. Bodenhamer.

World's two highest capital cities are La Paz, Bolivia's working capital, and Lhasa, Tibet. Both cities have an elevation over 12,000 feet.

County Teachers Hear Science Innovations

Pettis County Teachers Association met for a science workshop March 22 at High Point School. John Dale Dunivan from the science department of the State Department of Education in Jefferson City conducted the workshop.
Dunivan told of many ideas and experiments to be used in the classroom. There were 12 members of the association present, with Dr. C. F. Scotten, county superintendent of schools, as a special guest.
A fried chicken dinner was served in the lunchroom of the school.

Iran Begins Trade With Communists

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — Traditionally pro-Western Iran has started trading with the Communists. This could change the East-West balance of power in the Middle East, but most people here don't seem to be particularly worried about it.

Mohammed Reza Shah Pahlavi, Iran's Western-oriented monarch, says the Communists have more grounds for worry than he has. His ministers say the economic agreements they have signed so far with the Communist bloc are at least as advantageous to Iran as they are to the Communists.

Top American officials, who feel the United States has a major stake in this nation, profess no concern — for the time being, at least. The United States put Iran on its feet after World War II and is committed by treaty to defend it against aggression.

Iran has been suspicious of the Russians since Peter the Great first looked longingly at the warm water outlets of the Persian Gulf. Aggressive Communist tactics — the Communists came close to seizing power here in 1953 — have heightened this suspicion.

But the picture has undergone a startling change in the last few years. Iran is at a turning point in its history.

U.S. economic and military assistance, $1.6 billion since World War II, is being phased out. Spurring oil revenues, $512 million last year, have made Iran increasingly self-sufficient.

These programs include sweeping land reforms, massive education and health campaigns and the beginnings of industrialization. All part of the Shah's so-called "white revolution," they have been in effect barely three years but unbiased observers see results.

An important though indirect result is this: they have disarmed leftist extremist elements, a major opposition force in the past.

The U.S. Government Committee on Balance of Payments reclassified Iran last December as a "developed nation" and as such subject to the American domestic program limiting U.S. investment abroad.

Forced to stand on its own feet, Iran is branching out in its international economic dealings. It has signed agreements, mostly on a barter basis, with the Soviet Union, Romania, Czechoslovakia, Poland, Hungary and Bulgaria.

The Russians will soon start building a $286-million steel mill in Isfahan in exchange for natural gas to be piped to the Soviet border through a 450 million pipeline running 800 miles.

The Shah concedes at the Soviet steel mill project could arouse pro-Russian feelings among his people and encourage leftist elements.

"But there is no danger that it will bring us closer to the Communist system," he told this reporter. "If anything it might bring the Communists closer to our system."

One of his financial experts put it another way: "With our urgent need to develop and the shrinking of available capital abroad, we have no alternative but to trade where we can. We know the products we buy from the Eastern bloc may be poorer in quality and, despite their attractive sounding terms, they might cost us more in the long run, but what can we do? We must have them."

Birthdays of Three Honored March 20th

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wilson were hosts March 20 at a birthday dinner, honoring Mrs. Wilson's brother, Paul Miller, her sister, Mrs. C. W. Sappington, and her granddaughter, Miss Carol Ray Wright.

Guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Wright, Washington, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Sappington, California; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Miller, Independence; Miss Carol Wright and Keith Sproat, both students at Central Missouri State College, Warrensburg.

PROPOSED REDWOOD PRESERVE—An administration proposal awaiting congressional action would create a new national park along the Pacific coast in California's northernmost counties to preserve redwood stands, containing some trees up to 2,000 years old. The proposed park, in two sections, would total 45,000 acres. There already is a state redwood park, Prairie Creek, in the area. A conservation organization, the Sierra Club, proposes an even more inclusive park, outlined on Newsmap.

Shopping for Electric Housewares

Can you afford to throw money away? Buying appliances that you won't use often can be just that! To avoid wasting your money think before you buy.

For every family there are probably right electrical housewares. The choice of suitable ones begins with the value you put on their features: labor-saving, mobility, multiple use, automatic control, or just plain fun. Today's trend is for the busy homemaker to buy and use electrical housewares that will give good performance and save her time and energy.

Plan your buying in advance and then shop around for competitive prices. Shop with reliable dealers who handle merchandise of manufacturers who stand back of their products.

Electricity and Appliances

To get best performance from your electrical appliances, you must have adequate wiring in your home. The great increase in electrical appliances used today has made the wiring of many homes — those wired 10 to 20 years ago — inadequate. Even the minimum wiring standards call for at least two small appliance circuits in the kitchen-dining room service area. These circuits have larger wire than regular lighting circuits because the small appliances have higher wattages.

It's a good idea to have your home wiring checked by a reliable electrician before you add electrical appliances. Frequently-blown fuses and tripped circuit breakers indicate that your wiring needs attention. Always be sure that the proper size of fuse or breaker is used.

Some typical wattages of appliances are: toaster — 1250 watts, waffle baker — 1350 watts, Coffee maker — 1000 watts, and hand iron — 1100 watts. You can see that if more than one of these is connected to a "general purpose" circuit at one time the wiring will be overloaded. General purpose circuits are those found in most homes and are served with No. 14 wire. They have a capacity of 1800 watts and should always be protected with a 15-ampere fuse. In contrast, small appliance circuits use larger diameter wire (usually No. 12) and are protected with 20-ampere fuses.

Connect your appliances to appliance or wall outlets only. Avoid using them on extension cords, particularly lamp cords. Appliances with 1500 or more watts may need to be used alone on one circuit. Read your applicance direction book to be sure.

The U. L. seal means an appliance has met safety standards of the Underwriter's Laboratories, Inc. This is an organization for testing electrical materials, devices, and equipment construction. Their seal will be on the body of the appliance if it has been approved. The cord will also have a U. L. seal if it has been listed. However, if there is a seal on the cord only, this may mean that the appliance has not met U. L. safety standards.

If you have a number of portable appliances which you use at the same time some possible solutions are: a control panel which takes four to six appliances; or an appliance work center which will handle a number of portable appliances and has both adequate wiring and storage space. These control panels or work centers can cause them have much heavier serve several appliances be- wire, leading directly from the home's wiring distribution box.

For a thermostat control, the new probe type may be your choice. But decide if it will take care of your needs when you use more than one appliance at a time. The appliance may be immersed for cleaning, after removing this probe control.

Appliances may be divided into three categories: motor driven, heat producing, and motorized heating. The wattage for heat producing appliances is generally more than that of small motor driven ones. The motor-heating ones have the highest wattage.

Factors to Consider Between Ready Prepared and Home-Made Mixes

Many people believe that mixes are far more expensive than the cost of making the item from "scratch." This is not necessarily so. In recent years, mass production and technology have reduced the costs of partially prepared products.

Items vary in the convenience they offer. Some require many additional ingredients which tend to add to cost, time and trouble. Read labels.

There is a definite saving of time when using mixes.

The ingredients in commercially prepared mixes are carefully controlled. Instructions are simple and if carefully followed, satisfactory results can be obtained.

Individuals should compare quality of finished product made from a mix with a similar product made from scratch. This may vary with individuals and their ability to cook.

Mixes may cut down in storage space needs for special ingredients for baking. Homemade cakes generally have better keeping qualities than those made from a box.

14-Year-Old Crushed To Death By Tractor

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP) — Terry Gorley, 14, was crushed to death Monday night by a tractor that overturned on the old Savannah Road north of St. Joseph.

Swiss Sea Work Holds Tradition

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP) — The Swiss Navy may still be a joke but landlocked Switzerland has a merchant marine crisscrossing the world's seas with its own maritime tradition. In fact, the Swiss pride themselves for having a larger seagoing merchant marine than Canada, whose shores are washed by two giant oceans.

At the end of 1965, a total of 31 vessels flying the Swiss white cross were in service, their total tonnage was 267,000 and the crew 963 — including 600 Swiss who abandoned their mountain hamlets for the call of the sea.

The growth of the Swiss merchant marine was accompanied by the development of barge transportation on the Rhine River — Switzerland's main lifeline to the north. Rhine barges operating between the river port of Basle and the seaports of Antwerp and Rotterdam carry about 40 per cent of all Swiss imports.

In the somber days of World War II it became essential for Switzerland to have its own seagoing merchant marine. Surrounded by nations at war, seeing supply vessels torpedoed either by one or the other side, Switzerland at first decided to charter a merchant fleet.

Fifteen Greek ships went into Swiss service. When Greece found itself at war, they, too, were barred from access to Mediterranean ports whence supplies were transported to Switzerland.

For Switzerland, it became a question of getting the supplies in or starving. Thus the Swiss merchant marine was born.

Operated at first by the Swiss War Transport Office, the Swiss merchant marine lost one third of its tonnage on high seas or while approaching neutral ports.

When the war ended in 1945, the nucleus of seagoing Switzerland was there and the nation decided to continue this venture. Private companies took over the ships and a slow but steady expansion followed.

Swiss shipping regulations are among the strictest in the world. All Swiss ships must be fully owned by Swiss interests and must be run by Switzerland-based organizations.

Although rating only 40th in size among the world's commercial fleets, the Swiss merchant marine is described as very modern. Today the 31-vessel fleet is judged sufficient to cover any emergency and keep the country supplied.

No one, however, has solved the problem of ports — they must be in foreign countries and because of that Switzerland will always be vulnerable.

The merchant marine has two special tankers for wine trans-

Indira Gandhi's Job Among Toughest In The World Now

By CONRAD FINK
NEW DELHI (AP) — A huge ornate wooden door crashed open and a smiling woman in a red and gold sari swished through the gloomy corridor of India's foreign ministry. "Hello, there!" — and with a slight nod of her head she was gone, around a corner and down a stairway at a near run to a waiting car.

It was Prime Minister Indira Gandhi of India, behind in her day's schedule but trying hard to catch up.

And that tells a story about this 48-year-old woman with the extraordinarily tough job of leading India and its 480 millions.

Whether she succeeds will depend to some extent on talks next week with President Johnson in Washington. For Johnson, alone of all world leaders, has the means to help Mrs. Gandhi on the scale she needs.

Mrs. Gandhi needs food — not because her people are starving to death but because food shortages are triggering political violence that threatens unity of her nation.

She needs development loans — not so much to push India to the "take-off stage" but rather to reverse unemployment trends. And, again, there is political unrest that stems from a bare national treasury and an industry that is sluggishly moving along at less than 50 per cent capacity.

How badly does she need all this?

A hint comes from the fact that since 1951 India has received more than $6.1 billion in U. S. economic development aid, over $3.1 billion in food grain shipments — and things never were worse than they are today.

Another hint: Indian officialdom traditionally is critical of many U. S. policies, particularly in Viet Nam. But Mrs. Gandhi, probably in anticipation of her talks with Johnson, has avoided any open criticism of Washington, even though this would bring prompt and rich political dividends from her leftist opposition.

If Mrs. Gandhi has leftist leanings, as was widely believed when she was lady-in-waiting for her father, Jawaharlal Nehru, she has done a thorough job of covering them in the two months she has been prime minister.

If she is pro-Russian, as it seemed when she was information minister in the late Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri's cabinet, she is making a careful effort to be a nonaligned leader.

One theme, politically popular in India these days, does run through her public statements: India needs huge amounts of foreign aid but will not sacrifice its national interest or honor to get it.

She can talk tough when the situation demands.

Commenting recently on a revolt by Mizo tribesmen in eastern India, she said: "When there is this kind of disturbance there is only one thing to do and that is to put it down."

Mrs. Gandhi also can be tough on pocketbook issues, a tender subject for politicians in India as much as anywhere. With general elections coming up next year, Mrs. Gandhi on March 12 spoke to the Indian Chamber Commerce on matters of new taxation. She put it this way: "No government would wish to add to the tax burden on the even of elections if this can be avoided," she said. "But at the same time a responsible government must be guided by the basic interests of the people."

Much of the sternness in Mrs. Gandhi's pronouncements probably is traceable to men around her. Four are important.

Home Minister G.L. Nanda, twice India's acting prime minister, is tough on Communists and rioters.

Kirk Douglas Has Second Thoughts About Success

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — All of his life, Kirk Douglas has believed in the cult of the champion, whose only success lies in constant victory.

Lately, however, the actor confesses to having some second thoughts.

"Something happens in this quest for success. Sometimes you can lose yourself along the way," he said.

"I'd like to be able to afford the luxury of failure. You have to feel free to do what you want to do, although this is hard to attain in any field."

"But I feel most people can come pretty close to getting what they want out of life—if they are really ready to pay the price."

After acting in some 40 pictures, Kirk Douglas would like to gamble, win or lose, on becoming a screen and Broadway director.

The drive to win has been a part of his nature ever since, as the son of immigrant parents from Russia, he worked his way through college.

He became a top debater, president of the student body, and a champion intercollegiate wrestler.

After slinging hash part-time here and appearing in several Broadway plays, he did a wartime Navy hitch, then went to Hollywood and quickly became a star.

"To me, New York is the greatest city in the world because it has a kind of frightening power, an indifference to everybody except the winner that makes it awesome," Kirk said.

"From my youth I also remember the throb of it, your ability to get lost in it."

Kirk also remembers as a chief turning point in his life an English class taught by Louise Livingstone at the high school in Amsterdam, N.Y.

"She convinced me I should get an education," he said.

Here are a few of the things Kirk Douglas likes:

"Excellence, the ballet grace of pro athletes, being alone and surrounded by music, peasant food of almost any country but particularly plain spaghetti with butter; yellow, because it's supposed to be the color of friendship; contrasts, such as sunny and rainy days; big storms, because they make me feel so good there's somebody up there really running things; the feeling of cleanliness, walking at night, swimming, hitting a long ball off the tee, reaching for something out of reach, seeing the American flag wave in a breeze."

These are his dislikes:

"Mediocrity in myself or anybody else, the taste of turnips; exercise, which I do as a form of penance; critics, because they can make me feel so good or so lousy; shopping, double-breasted suits, pompous people, and those who think patriotism is corny."

"I also hate doing homework for my kids. To me, making a new movie is easier than solving problems in the new math. There life has rumbled on by me."

WASHINGTON (AP) — A July 9 wedding date has been set for the marriage of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's son, Robert, 22, and Donna Erickson, of Hampton, Minn.

The bride-to-be's mother, Mrs. Raymond Erickson, announced the news Monday in Washington and said the ceremony would be performed in St. Olaf Catholic Church in Minneapolis.

Both Donna and young Humphrey are students at Mankato State College in Minnesota. She is a Catholic and he is a Congregationalist.

The vice president and Mrs. Humphrey have 3 other children, two of them married.

ACCRA, Ghana (AP) — Alex Quaison-Sackey, former president of the U.N. General Assembly, has been released from protective custody at the Usher fort in Accra, his relatives said.

An Effective Alteration

Now you see it, now you don't, is an expression of legerdemain that applies to that once decrepit-looking signboard above the one story building on the southeast corner of Ohio avenue and Fifth street.

It seems only yesterday we commented on this blemish to the downtown landscape opposite the Pettis County Court House. But it's gone now, almost quicker than one can say Jack Robinson—the old sign, that was.

Here is a typical example of how an unattractive object can undergo a striking alteration in appearance. Renewed vitality was imparted to this sign as the result of a combination of personal interest on the part of the Downtown Merchants' Association, property owners, and the use of new lumber, nails, saws, paint and brushes, artistry and muscular effort. Now we read:

Downtown Merchants' Association WELCOMES YOU
Quality and Convenience

Here is another example of downtown Sedalia coming alive in an overall metamorphosis in areas of minor as well as major improvements.

Central Missouri shoppers appreciate such responsiveness which in no small part was stimulated by development of the modern shopping centers here.

Everyone benefits from this revitalization of Sedalia as a shopping mecca. Favorable expressions to this effect are heard frequently on the local scene as it becomes more evident that Sedalia's trade area expands in all directions.

Continued enlargement of the Sedalia trade zone depends on maintenance of mobility in retail business appeals to those who can be served by it both at home and abroad.

Progress in this broad area can be generated by a fusion of competition with cooperation.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

A medical advisory board to serve for the Selective Service Boards of Pettis and adjoining counties has been appointed by Lieut. Col. W. L. Gist, of the medical corps. Among the board members are: Dr. John B. Carlisle, surgery; Dr. C. H. Brady, eye, ear, nose and throat; Dr. A. J. Campbell, internal medicine; Dr. Charles D. Osborne, orthopedics; Dr. G. H. Fading 20th Century

In case you aren't aware how far gone the 20th century is, for young men and women just starting out on their careers, "dollars deducted for retirement and Social Security from their first pay checks will probably not return to them until the second decade of the next century."

The words in quotation marks are by Prof. Paul W. McCracken, University of Michigan economist, who does not suggest that students begin thinking about retirement already.

His point is that it is time to realize that our colleges and universities are in the business of educating citizens for the 21st century and should raise their sights accordingly.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Cops and Robbers Contagious In D. C.

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — "Everybody's doing it" used to be the name of a ragtime tune referring to a popular dance, "The Turkey Trot." Today it refers to the "Gum-Shoe Trot."

Everybody's dancing this dance today. General Motors is gum-shoeing its chief critic, Ralph Nader. The State Department is gum-shoeing the grandson of a former Secretary of State, Miss Frances Knight, chief of the passport division, who signed this order, says that her boss in the State Department is gum-shoeing on her.

Congressman Irving Whalley, the Pennsylvania Republican, wants the FBI to gum-shoe on me for telling how he sent Teakwood elephants to Republicans which he said were purchased in India, when he really got them from a Republican committee bargain sale in Washington.

The Justice Department is gum-shoeing Jack Anderson and me for allegedly stealing documents from Sen. Tom Dodd, D-Conn.

Sen. Dodd, in turn, has retained a private detective, with the reported cooperation of U. S. Court of Appeals Judge Irving Kaufman of New York, to gum-shoe on us.

A Bath in North Carolina

And the other day I got a phone call from two friends in Reidsville, N. C., that an agent friendly to Sen. Dodd had called to gum-shoe on a bathing incident in 1915 which I was arrested at 3 a.m. for taking a sponge bath near the Southern Railway yards after working all night striking a Chautauqua tent.

It's an incident I have written about several times and has become quite a joke in North Carolina. I was even invited back to Reidsville by the Chamber of Commerce to celebrate the occasion.

Nevertheless, C. L. Oliver, publisher of the Reidsville Review, was cross-examined by a friend of Sen. Dodd's as to where he could get a copy of a 1915 newspaper describing the incident. Unfortunately they had been destroyed in a fire a long time ago. The Mr. Oliver assured the Dodd agent, however, that the newspaper, if available would have clearly showed I was acquitted, and that there was nothing sinister about the arrest and trial.

T. W. Glidewell, son of the attorney who volunteered to defend me in court on that misty morning 51 years ago, was also queried by a Dodd agent and gave the same assurances.

MINNEAPOLIS STAR: Long Live Nessie. —Apparently Marcus Lipton, a Laborite member of the British parliament, has small appreciation of fables, myths, superstitions and such.

He has drawn a bead on the Loch Ness monster, which is almost comparable to taking aim at the Easter bunny. This matter-of-fact and unimaginative M.P. wants the legendary monster to fish or cut bait, so to speak. He thinks it high time that fact displaced fancy.

Lipton wants a full-blown government investigation, employing submarines, pontoons and sonic soundings. His demand was prompted by a report from Royal Air Force and Defense Ministry experts that five-year-old movie photographs showed the monster probably was an animate object 92 feet long, six feet wide and five feet high.

He suspects that the monster story is a wild fairy tale, a judgment with which we are inclined to agree, but what good will it do to prove that there is no such critter? Not only will those who have "seen" it be discredited and embarrassed, but a story that has circulated in Scotland since 565 A.D. will be blown out of the water.

We would remind Marcus Lipton that the world has an abundance of realism, but that fancy, the stuff of dreams, mystery and escape, is in exceedingly short supply.

ness of educating citizens for the 21st century and should raise their sights accordingly.

Shadowing A Private Eye

Meanwhile, since everybody else was doing it, Jack Anderson decided to do some gum-shoeing ourselves on the private eye sent from New York to shadow us.

He is James A. Lynch, of 3005 Johnson Place, Wantagh, Long Island, a big man in his late forties with reddish hair and ample girth whom Jack found to have registered at the Fairfax Hotel and next day reported to Senator Dodd.

Detective Lynch used Dodd's office as a base of operation and began interviewing witnesses. Some of them complained that he had passed himself off as a federal agent, others that he had threatened them, that he said he was working for Judge Irving Kaufman of the U.S. Court of Appeals; and had warned one witness that Sen. Dodd would get him fired if he didn't cooperate.

Grilling A Private Eye

After some preliminary investigation of Dodd's investigator, Anderson telephoned the investigator direct. He first told Lynch that he had been accused of impersonating an FBI agent. This Lynch denied, saying he had always identified himself as a private detective before talking to anyone.

Lynch also denied that he had threatened anyone or told one witness Dodd would have him fired.

"How is it," asked Anderson, "that three witnesses tell a different story?"

Lynch offered no explanation. "Isn't it true that you used Judge Kaufman's name in approaching these witnesses?" Anderson asked.

"No," replied Lynch.

"Well these witnesses had never heard of Judge Kaufman until you brought up his name. How do you think they got the name? Do you think they made it up out of the blue?"

"I may have mentioned Judge Kaufman's name," Lynch admitted.

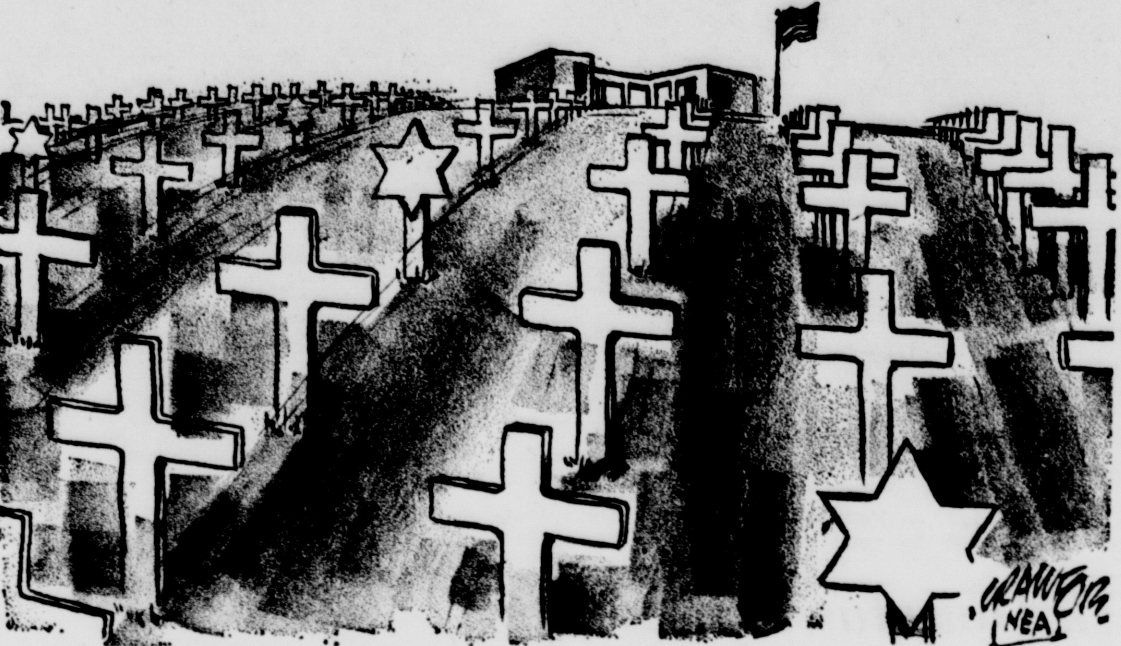

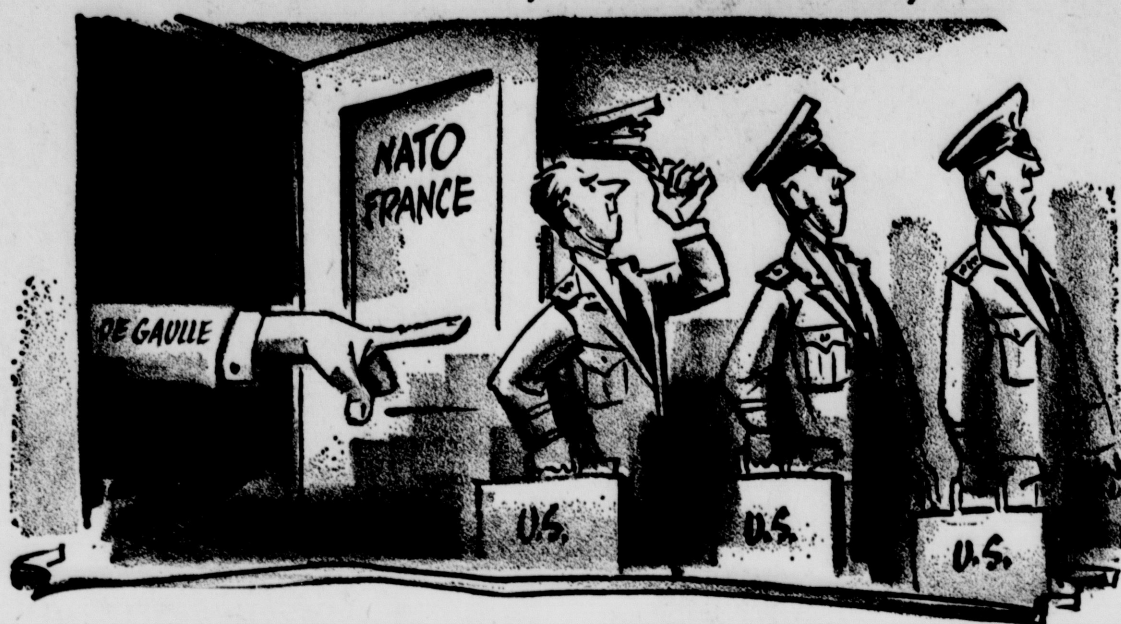

Judge Kaufman is a close friend of Dodd's. Incidentally he once asked me to help him get appointed to the U. S. District Court in New York.

"What are you doing here?" Anderson asked Lynch. "Are you trying to intimidate the witnesses against Dodd?"

"I don't intend to tell you," replied Lynch.

Thus goes the gum-shoe dance of "Everybody's Doing It" in Washington. Most interesting phase of the dance is the Justice Department's investigation of Anderson and me which will be described in an early column.

Guidelines Place Johnson In A Box

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is in a box.

Last January he laid down guidelines for business and labor to prevent inflation. He wanted wage raises limited to 3.2 per cent with no price increases. This was his guideline for both sides.

But prices have gone up. February showed the steepest rise in living costs since the Korean War, with food prices leading the upswing.

Although the rise was only half of 1 per cent it was part of a fairly steady climb, for living costs now are 2.5 per cent above a year ago, the biggest annual increase since 1958.

In the past few days he has telephoned over 25 leaders to ask them to go easy on any spending that might produce inflation. And he invited a number of top businessmen to a White House dinner tonight.

He'll no doubt burn up businessmen who, if they see a chance to make big profits, won't be happy to have Johnson bending their ear about going easy.

Meanwhile, labor is publicly burned up at him for insisting wage increases, when living costs and business profits are going up, must be held to a 3.2 per cent limit.

Labor, which has consistently backed the Democrats, is crucially important to Johnson's party which faces the voters next November in the congressional election, particularly when politician Johnson remembers that the party with a majority in Congress, such as the Democrats have now, traditionally loses seats in an election year when the presidency is not at stake.

No one knows better than Johnson that a tax boost can be poison in an election year.

Slowly and steadily, Johnson has been saying he would propose a tax boost — on individual and corporate income — if he found it necessary to fight inflation.

Tuesday, perhaps, he said it more strongly than ever: "Congress would rather have a modest tax increase of 5, 6 or 7 per cent, than to see inflation and the value of the dollar go down."

If there is to be a tax increase, he said, his advisers figure it ought to bring in about $5 billion. And, he warned, if prices continue to go up, he would ask for a tax bill.

But already this year Congress has boosted taxes to bring in about $6 billion over the next 15 months to help finance the Viet Nam war. That was done this month.

It boosted the automobile excise tax, which manufacturers have to pay, and upped the telephone tax. At the same time it provided for tighter pay-as-you-go tax withholdings from individuals and faster tax collections from corporations.

And while Johnson was warning against inflation and the possible need for a tax boost, the House at Johnson's request approved $12 million to provide rent subsidies for poor families — although Johnson had asked more — and $10 million for a Teachers Corps program. Both are part of Johnson's "Great Society" plan.

It was just two years ago that Congress, at Johnson's urging, voted a $19.2-billion tax cut for individuals and corporations extending over 1964 and 1965.

It came out at about an average 19 per cent reduction for individuals and 9 per cent for corporations. When he signed that tax-cut bill in 1964 Johnson said it was the "single most important step we have taken to strengthen our economy since World War II."

Until he actually asks Congress for a tax boost now, it's possible Johnson is using the threat of a boost to persuade business

an impossible contract. In explanation of the bidding it should be pointed out that Mr. Mollo was playing with a new partner and that for want of any chance to develop a system they were playing old fashioned Culbertson. In apologizing for the final contract Mollo said: "The blame for the wretched contract must be shared, though not necessarily in equal measure, between myself, my partner and the late Ely Culbertson."

Oswald: "It's your hand. Go on!"

Jim: "If West had opened the ace of hearts it would have been immediate death for our hero but West picked the rather silly lead of the seven of clubs. Victor played dummy's queen and won with his own ace as a bit of deception of his own. At this point he could have led out the ace and king of trumps in hope of dropping the doubleton queen but he had a better idea. He lead a trump toward dummy's ten."

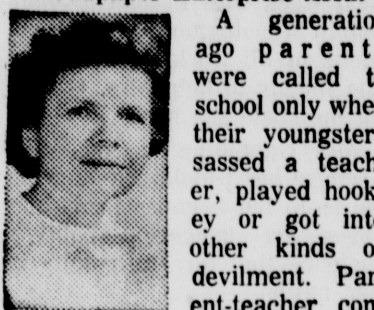

Oswald: "So ends the story. I assume that East won with the queen of spades and did not find the heart return whereupon Victor was able to draw trumps, cash his king of clubs, enter dummy with the king of diamonds and discard the ten of hearts and his last two little diamonds on the club suit."

Jim: "I don't know if Victor gave the hand the best technical play but he sure was successful. How about a comment on the bidding?"

Oswald: "I think Victor was very unfair to the late Ely and rather unfair to himself. If Ely were still around he would point out that North had shown his full values when he bid four hearts and had no right to go on to five spades."

Don't Prolong Conference

By SUSAN LIGHT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

ferences were for the summoned few.

Not so today. All parents are now invited to discuss their children's physical, mental and emotional development and well-being. Parent-teacher conferences have become a part of educational Americana.

Since each teacher talks with 25 to 35 parents, often several times a year, she must necessarily make every minute count. Otherwise, conference appointments would consume more time and energy than any one person has to give.

This time limitation is something that many mothers tend to forget or overlook. Once she puts on her best bib and tucker and waltzes over to school, a mother is ready to relax and gab for an hour or so.

I heard a group of teachers discussing this problem recently.

"I don't mind," said one, "as long as they talk about the child in my room. But so often they start hashing over all their other children, and what time they go to bed and how they're getting along with their teachers..."

There are times, of course, when a lengthy conference about a child with a problem is necessary and advisable. And in any conference the teacher should be able to keep the conversation in hand and politely bring the interview to a close. Still, it takes a certain amount of co-operation, courtesy and self-control on the part of a doting parent not to waste the teacher's time and to remember that other parents are waiting their turn.

Naturally, the teacher wants to know about any home conditions that might affect the child's school work or any school problems the child may have mentioned at home. Putting their heads together, she and the parent may be able to come up with some good solutions. It isn't necessary, however, to go into ALL the intimate details.

If handled correctly, conferences can be pleasant and profitable for both parents and teachers and a real help to the children under discussion. But when the teacher looks at her watch, glances toward the door and finally stands up, it's time to say a friendly but final "good-bye."

Q—I retired last year after 30 years of government service on a disability pension. Is this taxable to me? I'm 58 years old.

A—Yes, although a disability pension received before the normal retirement age may qualify for the sick pay exclusion. Since U.S. Civil Service employees may retire at age 60 with 30 years of service, your pension qualifies as sick pay and up to $100 a week may be excluded from income. When you reach age 60 your pension will be treated as an annuity for tax purposes.

Q—Just what do you mean by gross income?

A—Any income that the law specifically does not exempt from taxation is gross income. For example, Social Security pensions are expressly made tax exempt by law, and therefore are not added in when figuring gross income.

Q—When you are counting the waiting period for sick pay, do you include the weekends?

A—You count them unless the illness began on a weekend. Then you start your waiting period with the next work day.

Q—Is there any situation where partners in a business could file a joint return with each other?

A—No. The partnership will have to file partnership Form 1065, reporting its income and expenses. Each individual partner has to file his own Form 1040, showing his share of the partnership net income. He may, of course, file his individual return jointly with his wife.

Q—Do you have to be married to file as head of household?

A—No, generally you must be unmarried or legally separated. In certain cases where a person maintains a household for a relative, he is eligible to file as head of household. This is explained on page 4 of the 1040 instructions.

Q—My son has an $800 scholarship for college. Will this affect my dependency deduction for him?

A—An amount received as a scholarship by your child who is a student is not included in determining total support so you will be able to continue to claim him as a dependent if the other requirements are met.

Q—They put in a new sewer where I live and I was assessed for part of the cost. Is this deductible?

Synthetic Life Now In Test Tubes

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — A living thing has been synthesized in a test tube — and it reproduces itself in as little as two minutes, a scientist said today.

In fact, if you could provide enough raw materials for it, it would produce in 24 hours so many pounds of itself that the only way to understand the number of pounds would be to multiply one quadrillion by itself seven times.

Since it would cost about $9,600 to pay for a pound of raw materials, the economics are a little frightening too.

But Dr. Sol Spiegelman of the University of Illinois — who synthesized the living material for the first time last summer — makes only a 30th of an ounce at a time to work with.

The material is a copy of the genetic heart of a virus. It is ribonucleic acid or RNA — the part of the virus that has the ability to recreate itself. RNA is found in most types of cells.

To set the stage for the synthesis, Dr. Spiegelman prepares a broth of nucleic acids that make up the virus, plus some magnesium salt. Then he adds a copy of the virus RNA to act as a sort of template — and an enzyme, or chemical helper left over from a naturally occurring virus.

The enzyme, which remembers its job from the virus that created it, and the virus copy take over from there. In two minutes it recreates itself the first time, and gets faster and faster after that — as it refines the reproduction process.

The resulting virus RNA not only duplicates itself, but produces some changed altered forms of itself as well — showing that it has the ability to evolve as other living things do.

The material offers a system to study how viruses reproduce and how they infect living cells. The artificial virus RNA can infect cells just as the naturally occurring virus. Once inside a cell, it commandeers the cell's machinery to produce more viruses and cover them with protein coat that naturally occurring viruses wear.

Dr. Spiegelman spoke of his

Washington Capsules

WASHINGTON (AP)—A senator substituting oleomargarine for a dairy state has urged immediate cancellation of an order for butter in the armed services diets.

Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., described the move as false economy and added: "This is oleo politics pure and simple." He said if economy really motivated the move the armed services "should go a step farther and put our fighting men on a rice and fish oil diet like Oriental soldiers have."

"This would save millions of dollars," Aiken said, adding: "Such a move is unthinkable, but it is not more ridiculous than to substitute oleo for butter under the guise of saving money."

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department is maintaining a close-mouthed attitude on reported negotiations to free an American foreign aid official kidnaped by Communists near Saigon 14 months ago.

Concerning a Washington Post Dispatch that said secret efforts were being made to obtain the release of Gustav C. Hertz, State Department press officer Richard Phillips said: "We have said many times that the U.S. government is doing everything it can to effect the release of all Americans held by the Viet Cong or in North Viet Nam but we will not discuss any details of these efforts."

U.S. savings bonds. Postal savings, limited to 2 per cent interest reached a peak of more than four million depositors and a balance of nearly $3.4 billion in 1947. But last year there were fewer than one million depositors and deposits dwindled to $344 million.
